SENATE BARES PEACE TREATY

HIDDEN PERIL TO U.S. LURKS IN PEACE PACT

Japanese Given Ascendancy in Pacific Ocean Without an Excuse, Says Prof. Williams—Sees Clash With America

Educator Blames Secret Pact Between England, France and Japan for Surrender of Islands to Nippon Control

The seeds of grave difficulties between Japan and the United States have been sown in the peace conference now drawing to a close at Paris, is the belief of Dr. Edward T. Williams, famed authority on Far Eastern questions and expert adviser in that field to the American peace delegation.

The virtual possession of the Caroline and Marshall Islands by Japan, Dr. Williams believes to be a constant menace to the country's naval base at Guam and its cable communications.

In the settlement of the Shantung question he finds an abandonment, more or less imposed upon this nation, of principles for which President Wilson stood, as well as the grave injustice to the Chinese and an undesired emolument to Japan.

This settlement was largely forced by the terms of treaties secretly negotiated between England and Japan and France and Japan just before this country entered the war and previously exploited fact which he made clear.

Dr. Williams is head of the department of Oriental languages and literature at the University of California, where he has just returned from Paris. He formerly was head of the Far Eastern bureau of the State Department, to which position he was appointed because of his possession, through long residence and official connections, of a more intimate knowledge of the Oriental situation than any other American.

EDUCATOR LOANED

U. S. BY UNIVERSITY

A year or more ago he was appointed to the Academic Professorship of the University of California, where he has been so long. Then came the peace negotiations at Paris and the nation's need for an advisor thoroughly familiar with the situation in the Far East. The Department of the Interior at once loaned Dr. Williams, and his services at Paris the State Department considered almost indispensable value.

As the peace terms indicate, the conflict here has settled the difficult question of the German colonies by a system of mandates," said Dr. Williams today. "These mandates are of various sorts, relative to the future of the territory of which they are made. In some cases, as portions of Turkey in a rather higher state of civilization than others, a mandatory arrangement has been made. With regard to others the mandatory extends practically to possession, or, at least, suggests a future possession. The islands of the Pacific have been divided into three groups, the north, the middle and the south. To all of the equator have gone to England and France, chiefly. Those north of the equator, though not definitely allotted, are left in the hands of Japan. Those south of the equator, including the Caroline and Marshall groups. Reference to the map will indicate that the waterway westward from the Hawaiian Islands, bowed slightly southerly, is about bisected by these two groups with the Caroline lying at the westerly intersection point. The Carolines may be said very largely to dominate the United States possession at Guam. This country has four cables running to that island and beyond. Upon them depend our communications with the Philippines, communications of vast importance. The naval base at Guam itself is of great importance in itself.

JAPAN GIVEN STRATEGIC POSITION

"It is difficult, then to see what advantage this country has reaped from this disposition of the Caroline archipelago. The conference has bestowed upon Japan a most strategic position so far as our Pacific cable communications are concerned, which, in case of trouble with Japan, that country very easily could sever, and also so far as the integrity of our base at Guam is concerned. Remedy for the situation does not very readily suggest itself. The peace terms do not definitely transfer these groups to Japan. To all intents and purposes that is, however, exactly the disposition that has been made of them.

"This situation is one which we must keep in mind: Guam and our cable communications imperiled, in case of difficulties with Japan, and a base even further easterly, in the Marshall Islands, also possessed by that country. Neither group is of any particular industrial value to any particular industrial value to

Czecho-Slovak Peace

Asked of Hungary

PARIS, June 9.—Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, has telegraphed the Hungarian government that attacks by Hungarian troops on Czecho-Slovak forces must cease, a despatch from Vienna today says.

The Czecho-Slovak government has decided to use "extreme measures to constrain Hungary to cease hostilities," the premier's message adds.

Bernhardi Says Huns' Only Sin Was in Delaying

BERLIN, June 9.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—General Friedrich A. J. Von Bernhardi, the military writer, under the title, "Kaiser Wilhelm and Responsibility for the War," declares that the former emperor's only guilt was in not beginning the war early enough when his opponents were not equipped, and takes the viewpoint in favor of preventive warfare. He says of the kaiser:

"To the last moment he believed Russia would surrender inimical intentions and England would not take part in the fighting. In this I believe he negotiated to that end and only with difficulty could he be induced to take up the gauntlet that had been thrown down to him."

IRISH UNREST PRESAGES WAR, WALSH ASSERTS

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, June 9.—"Guerrilla warfare of a character which ushers in a major conflict is going on in Ireland," it is declared by Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, in a supplementary report they have forwarded to President Wilson regarding conditions in Ireland.

Walsh and Dunne, delegates of Irish societies in the United States, affirm in this addition to their report submitted to President Wilson last week that clashes between Irish volunteers and the army forces in Ireland, in which men on both sides are killed, are of daily occurrence.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, June 9.—"Ireland is more armed than shining," declared P. O. O'Connor, M. P., in a speech at Leeds, said a Central News despatch from that city today.

"The Sinn Fein is not the creation of Ireland, but the Sinn Fein leaders have cut half so much per cent as the successive British administrations."

Bomb Plot Started in Pennsylvania

BY UNITED PRESS

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

BEESMER, Pa., June 9.—Chief of Police James Finnerty of Beesmer said today in a statement to the United Press that he had evidence to show that the recent bomb outrages were organized and directed from here.

He declared that seven bombs were manufactured in a shanty near Beesmer and sent out in suitcases to be used by the anarchists.

Finnerty said he had established the identity of the anarchist who met death in the explosion of the Palmer home in Washington as Louis Lutzke, of Sign, Ill.

Airmen Plan Rules for Pacific Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Rules and regulations for the proposed trans-Pacific airplane flight contest for $50,000, prizes offered by Thomas Ince, motion picture producer of Venice, Cal., will be formulated by the Pacific Aero Club, it was announced today by S. S. Ebberts, its secretary, who was here tonight for Venice. The contest is for a flight from Venice, Cal., to Australia, with a consolation prize for the first aviator reaching Honolulu.

Congressman's Wife Robbed of Jewels

NEW YORK, June 9.—A $15,000 burglary at the New Rochelle home of Lucius N. Littauer, former representative in Congress, was reported to detectives here today.

A porchlumber entered Mrs. Littauer's room while she slept and escaped with her jewel box, containing gems worth that sum, according to the information.

CITY OFFICIALS IN PLUNGE ON 3000-FT. CLIFF

Commissioner Jackson Hurlb Self From Runaway Auto to Precipice and Escapes With Life by Clutching Bush

Brakes Fail to Work While Party Tours the El Valley Region; Eng. McClashan of Water Commission is Hurt

Leaping from the automobile in which he was riding with members of the Oakland Water Commission, as it was entering the El River Valley and got out of control, Commissioner F. F. Jackson was thrown over the brink of a 3000-foot cliff and saved his life only by clinging to a small bush yesterday, according to word brought back today from the water commission inspection tour.

He was badly cut and bruised and sustained a blow on the head which required medical treatment. Engineer H. L. McClashan of the water commission, who also jumped from the speeding car on the cliff, also was injured.

The machine started down the steep grade, the brakes gave way for several hundred feet, and the machine, out of control, started down at a terrific rate of speed. Jackson, McClashan and several others, fearing that the auto would go over the cliff, McClashan landed safely. Jackson, thrown on his face, rolled over the edge of the cliff and against a scrub oak which he later pressed his head against. He hung to this while the car, when its brakes "caught," came to a stop, and members of the party returned to rescue him from his perilous position.

ALL IN ONE MACHINE

WHEN CRASH OCCURRED

The accident occurred as the party, on its way to inspect the El River water supply project, entered the valley, three thousand feet above the river, on a steep grade in the road out into the side of the cliff. The entire party, consisting of Commissioners F. F. Jackson, H. L. McClashan, City Attorney H. L. Hagan, McClashan and Harbor Engineer J. J. Heck, were in the one machine, the other having broken down.

At Vichy Springs the party decided to bathe. City Attorney Hagan slipped on the smooth bottom of the bathing tank and fell, his head striking the side of the tank, and rendering him unconscious for a few moments. On the way back from the valley, half a mile from Vichy Springs, the machine ran out of gasoline. Heck and Hagan and Soderberg and McClashan formed "teams" to shove the machine until they came to a gasoline station, while Jackson, for reasons not connected with his jump from the cliff, rode standing up.

VALUABLE DATA ON PROJECT OBTAINED

The trip was, so far as investigations went, a success. The officials investigated the proposed line, seeing that practically no grade would be encountered most of the route, examined the available water supply and discussed structural details. A concrete pipe, according to the engineers, could bring two hundred million gallons daily from the El River project, practically by gravity. Structural reports will be made next week.

There were twenty-four city officials of Alameda, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond in the party. From Oakland came Commissioners Jackson, Soderberg and Morse, City Attorney Hagan, City Engineer Perry Brown, Engineer McClashan, From Berkeley—Mayor-Elect and Mrs. Louis Bartlett, City Engineer and Mrs. J. J. Heck, and from Richmond—Mayor Lane, City Engineer Chapman, Councilman E. J. Girard, E. E. Bennett, and Watson and City Attorney D. J. Hall.

From Alameda—Mayor Frank Otis, City Attorney W. J. Locke, City Manager C. E. Hewes and City Engineer C. E. Hick.

HARD ROADS ARE ENCOUNTERED ON TRIP

The seven autos left Oakland Thursday morning, reaching Ukiah about 10 o'clock that night. At the next morning the trip to Gravelly Valley, forty-five miles away, was started. There was fifteen miles of everable roads in the last leg of the journey, some of the roughest in the state, and in poor condition. Gravelly Valley is the proposed storage reservoir site in case the El River water supply is utilized. It is a large mountain valley, the water being secured through diverting the south fork of the El from its natural channel through a tunnel. This same power plant would be maintained if the Gravelly Valley reservoir were constructed.

In addition there is a second power site below the Snow mountain power plant, so that extensive electric energy can be easily generated.

Writer Brings 'Complete' Text of Peace Treaty

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Chicago Tribune today published what it said was a "complete" text of the German peace treaty, together with photographic facsimiles of the first two pages, printed in French and English. The text was obtained in Paris by Frazier Hunt, Tribune correspondent, according to the story. In his accompanying story, Hunt said:

"Outside of the copy in possession of the state department this is one of the few original copies there are in America."

"The copy brought by me to America entitled 'conditions of peace' is printed in English and French, the French text appearing on the left, and the English on the right-hand pages. The book is bound in paper, and is roughly 8x14 inches and a little over an inch thick. There are 416 pages of text running about 75,000 words, and four large maps are pasted in the volume."

Four Material Changes Are Made in Ultimatum 'Big Four' Will Send in Reply to German Counter Claims

Huns to Be Admitted to the League of Nations When They Live Up to the Ally Terms; Get 5 Days to Sign

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN

Correspondent of the International News Service

PARIS, June 9.—The "big four" today placed the fastening touches upon the ultimatum which will accompany the entente's reply to the German counter proposals this week. Four material modifications in the treaty have been virtually settled. They are:

1. Germany is guaranteed coal from upper Silesia and Polish territory.

2. Germany will be furnished with complete records of the League of Nations and if she lives up to the treaty terms she may actually be admitted to the league of nations at the forthcoming meeting in Washington in October.

3. Military arrangements are modified whereby the army may be abolished if the leaders desire it.

4. Germany is given representation on the economic commission.

This commission, which was created by the Versailles peace conference, is to be a permanent body, and its members will be appointed by the league of nations.

It is understood that even further material changes have been ordered and that several commissions are at work to make vague clauses of the treaty workable. "While it is admitted that the changes were designed to meet the German point of view and insure signing, it is emphatically declared that there has been no modification of a single principle."

When the amended treaty is submitted to the Germans it is possible that Premier Lloyd George will send a message to the Reichstag, indicating along certain lines. Premier Clemenceau is expected to put forth firm opposition.

President Wilson, in the meantime, is trying to secure unanimity of the big four. President Wilson, who has just returned to Versailles, is insisting that he will not sign. Secretary of State Lansing, however, stated that the present German government is likely to lose its leading members, who will be replaced by a new government. The German government is likely to lose its leading members, who will be replaced by a new government.

BERLIN, June 9.—The national assembly has been called to meet here the last of this week "to consider peace questions."

The cabinet, or even the peace committee of the assembly has the power to accept or reject the treaty, it is believed in view of this latest development, this would mean a decision will rest with the assembly as a whole.

This belief was strengthened by the statement of a member of the peace committee to the correspondent. He said that regardless of the tenor of the allies' reply to the counter proposals the German delegation will either quit Versailles or sign the treaty without first consulting Berlin.

GERMANY STILL IN DOUBT

There is absolutely no change in Germany's determination not to sign the treaty unless it is modified, according to a member of the delegation now in Berlin. He further declared that Germany intends to stand pat on refusing to accept the entire guilt for the war without further discussion, this would mean a decision will rest with the assembly as a whole.

Regarding indemnities, the German delegates said that Germany is prepared to make reparations to the victors, but not to pay.

The government has introduced a bill in the national assembly creating a high court to try officials guilty of causing and losing the war.

The "death sentence" of the social democratic party has asked that the party hold a full session this week to consider removal of its president (Karl Liebknecht) and to elect a new one.

SLITS SAYS TERMS ARE "DEATH SENTENCE"

VIENNA, June 9.—President Seitz, addressing the national assembly today, declared the peace amounts to the "death sentence" of Germany.

He announced the Austrian ministry had agreed unanimously that the terms are "unacceptable."

"Nothing is left for us to do but to join Germany," said Foreign Minister Ruzic. The loss of Bosnia (Czechoslovakia) not only means the subjugation of 5,000,000 German-Austrians to foreign domination, but the loss of important industrial and agricultural districts.

A state formed by violence is a menace to peace. Limitation of the Czecho-Slovak state is imperative to our national interests.

COMPERS SAYS ALL INDUSTRIAL AUTOCRACY GONE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—The conflict for industrial democracy is just beginning, declared Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today in his address to the thirty-ninth convention of the body, in session here.

"The war is over," said Compers. "The day for readjustment and reconstruction is at hand."

"The day of autocracy, both industrial and political, is gone. Those who oppose the new order are reckoning without their host."

"We are making no unjust nor unwarranted demands, but we are going to insist on an opportunity to live full, rounded lives, worthy of the civilization of our times."

President Wilson

WELLS' GREETINGS

"May I not send my warm greetings to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor and express my deep gratification that the industrial democracy which has grown out of the discussions of peace have led to a much fuller and more adequate comprehension of the questions of labor to the satisfaction of both sides of the world must direct their most thoughtful attention to it. It has been a real happiness to me to be of little service in these great matters."

Compers, in his address, when speaking of the industrial democracy, pressing in very warm terms the appreciation felt by all who have been dealing with labor matters of the invaluable service rendered by the industrial democracy.

He has won universal confidence and has firmly established in international circles as well as at home the reputation of the American Federation of Labor for candor and helpful counsel.

Five hundred and fifty labor leaders from all parts of the nation assembled here today for the opening of the convention. This convention is one of the most important in the history of the organization, in the history of many delegates and in the history of the world.

While Compers, Secretary Morrison and other today were confident that the radicals were planning a fight unless their policies were approved.

Matthew Woll, president of the International Labor Press of America, and a member of the War Labor Board, was loudly applauded when he asked Burleson's dismissal for his "frustrated outburst" of denials with postal employees.

He charged that Burleson's only object was to show a profit on the books of the Postoffice Department. To this end he had been publishing a "frustrated outburst" of denials, calling for increased postal rates, on the ground that it is "un-American."

BRIGHT PROSPECTS HELD OUT BY PEACE

Important projects for the advancement of labor and improvement of working conditions as well as the comprehensive outline of what has been accomplished on labor's behalf during the last year, are set forth in the report of the executive council, submitted today.

Amongst the matters submitted by the council to the convention are suggestions dealing with legislation to "prevent any invasion of the rights and prerogatives of the laboring man."

U.S. TO KEEP INVADERS OUT OF NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, June 9.—With a substantial marine guard in Nicaragua and a warship on each coast, the United States is prepared to protect that country from invasion by Costa Ricans, it was learned today from official sources. No action is expected, however, pending the outcome of an investigation now being made by the state department. Nicaragua has appealed to this government for protection.

Mexico Splits With U. S. Over Gillett

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The Mexican government has ordered the withdrawal of the Mexican delegates from the Pan-American Commercial Congress as a protest against the speech recently made before the Congress by Speaker Gillett of the House of Representatives.

The City of Chihuahua, which was reported to hold, was entered Saturday by Federal troops commanded by General Manuel Diezguiz. It was announced last night from the offices of President Carranza.

754 Ship Contracts in Balance Cancellations Urged by Hurley

Cancellation or suspension of contracts for 754 vessels, the cost of construction of which would be in excess of $594,000,000, is suggested by Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the Shipping Board, in a letter he has sent to Chairman Good of the House Appropriations committee. In the same letter Hurley asks for an appropriation of a little more than $600,000,000 with which to bring to a conclusion the shipbuilding operations of the government.

Hurley does not indicate whether the cancellations will be made on the Pacific or Atlantic Coast. He says that the actual cost to the government has been $150,000,000 for each vessel, the total expenditure of the government for shipbuilding being $2,861,775,570, inclusive of the amount asked for from Congress. The indicated cost each deadweight ton is $208, but there have been made in the government returns that brings the cost down to $180.

GIVES U. S. SECOND PLACE. With the expenditure of the $594,000,000 asked for total tonnage constructed will be 1,385,196, affording making the mercantile marine fleet of this country second place in the world, and at the same time establishing the United States as a first place in the world of the first place. In showing how the government has received in cash partial reimbursement for the money expended, Chairman Hurley in his letter says:

"Some shipbuilders have paid into the United States Treasury income and excess profits taxes aggregating $40 a deadweight ton on the vessels they have constructed. Others have paid the equivalent of $20 a deadweight ton has been returned to the treasury in this manner by all shipbuilders."

TAXES NOT INCLUDED.

"This $20 does not include any taxes paid by the hundreds of subcontractors who manufactured the steel, the boilers, the machinery and the many other things which go into the ships, but when multiplied by 1,385,196 deadweight tons, it indicates a total of $347,127,650, which, when subtracted from $2,861,775,570, leaves $180 a deadweight ton as the actual cost to the government of the fleet which played an essential part in the winning of the war and which is now a permanent commercial asset of the American people."

"We sold one of our 7500-ton freighters to the National Shipping Corporation of New York, for $210 a deadweight ton, and we have received from the Skinner & Eddy Shipbuilding Corporation an offer to buy at present construction cost four 2000-ton freighters, which the Skinner & Eddy Corporation itself is building. We sold one of our 5075-ton freighters to the Omega Steamship Company of New York for $210 a deadweight ton, and we have received from another firm an offer to buy four ships at the same price."

FACTS AND FIGURES. "In giving you this picture of our finances, I have confined myself to facts and figures. I have not mentioned the unusual conditions under which our work was planned and carried out. However, it is interesting to note that the cost of our steel and machinery was three times its normal cost and that the wages we paid to labor were based upon double the normal rate. Also, it is interesting to consider in connection with the foregoing figures the fact that we expanded the shipbuilding industry ten fold in ten months with high-priced materials, and under the handicap of transportation delays which made the work very costly. In the prosecution of our work we have made many blunders, finally, when we were compelled by the signing of the armistice suddenly to stop and reverse the ponderous machinery we had been driving at full speed. We found ourselves confronted with new problems, through the mazes of which we are happy to report that we can now see our way clearly."

RELATIONSHIPS CLOSE. "The inter-relationship of the shipbuilding and ship-operating industries is virtually close, and the war has imposed upon both of them unprecedented conditions which cannot be safely adjusted to normal without carefully considered action by the government, at whose call they abandoned the normal limitations of commercial organization and adjusted themselves to the abnormal conditions of war. Moreover, the importance of those two great industries to the prosperity of the American people is so great that the necessity for establishing them upon a healthy commercial basis is widely recognized as a prime matter of national policy."

6 Persons Killed as Train Hits Auto

CHICAGO, June 9.—Six persons were killed at Berwyn, Ill., near here today when an eastbound Chicago and Quincy railroad train struck an automobile in which they were riding. The automobile was wrecked.

Two men, one woman and three children were the casualties. All were killed. The bodies were badly mangled. The car bore a license tag of "T-4037 Michigan," and in the pocket of one of the men was found a telegram addressed to the name of W. S. Stenberg, 705 Georgia avenue, Gary, Ind.

Non-Resident Liable to Income Tax in U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Income taxes on property of non-residents of the United States as provided in the 1913 revenue act are constitutional, the supreme court decided today. The case, involving a resident of France, attacked the law.

The supreme court also sustained the validity of the St. Louis license tax on manufacturing concerns based on the value of business done by the manufacturer. The tax was not shown to impose an unreasonable burden on business, said the court.

Gold Ban is Lifted Except as to Russia

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The embargo against the exportation and importation of gold was removed today by President Wilson on recommendation of the Federal Reserve Board. Hereafter gold may be imported or exported freely to all countries with the exception of Bolshevik Russia. The control exercised over foreign exchange was terminated.

CONGRESS MAY INTERVENE IN WIRE STRIKE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Wilson will pursue a policy of "hands off" in the nation-wide strike of commercial telegraphers called for Wednesday. This was emphasized at the White House today when White House officials stated that although the matter probably would be brought to the attention of the President, no communications had been sent through White House channels. They were in a position to state positively, these officials said, that the attitude of the President is that the strike is a matter to be handled entirely by the postoffice department. In conjunction with other government agencies which might have jurisdiction as the department of labor and the national war labor board.

Possible congressional intervention to avert the walkout also was anticipated, but the officials said that just what form this action would take was conjectured. There was also a well defined report today that the American Federation of Labor at its Atlantic City convention would take up the matter.

Postoffice inspectors investigating the strike situation in Atlanta today wired Postmaster General Burleson that "evidence thus far secured does not justify the belief that employees have been dismissed owing to labor union affiliations."

2800 MEN LET OUT, CHARGE.

CHICAGO, June 9.—S. J. Koenig, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, who Saturday called a strike of all telegraphers and electrical workers for Wednesday here today he had no reason to expect official action from Washington, looking toward settlement of the trouble.

Koenig said he has received telegrams from the governments of the United States and Canada giving notice of readiness for the strike. Koenig issued the following statement late last night:

"Telegrams are coming in from all sections of the country that show that the workers are confident of success, despite the lockout of more than 300 members of the union by the Western Union Telegraph Company during the past 36 hours. This makes a total of over 2800 union workers driven out of the Western Union service in three days."

CARTON'S INFLUENCE CITED.

The main cause of the impending trouble is the attitude of President Wilson and his influence with Postmaster General Burleson. Burleson and Carlton are of one mind on the labor question.

"The Postal and the American Telegraph and Telephone companies are involved in the broader question of collective bargaining. The wire administration has denied the right of any company to bargain collectively. The Western Union fight will be the bitterest because Carlton has declared that no power on earth can compel him to permit union men and women to work for that telegraph company."

Meanwhile the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is preparing to have its men on strike by June 15.

3000 TO GO OUT IN WEST.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Three thousand telegraphers employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company at all points west of Denver, will strike at 8 o'clock, eastern time, next Wednesday morning, according to an announcement made here today. J. M. Shall, first international vice-president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America. He declared today that he believed the telegraphers' strike would not involve broker or press operators.

STRIKEBREAKERS IN ATLANTA.

ATLANTA, June 9.—The importation of more strikebreakers by the Western Union Telegraph Company and the further accession to the strikers' ranks from local workers marked the last 24 hours of the telegraph and telephone strike in Atlanta. At a mass meeting of labor unionists last night a sermon was preached with a text from the Bible which the preacher fitted to the strike.

READY IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—More than 150 Western Union employees will walk out here when the general strike is called Wednesday. J. M. Shall, A. officials declare today. Two girls employed by the Western Union were discharged for stating they intend to strike, union leaders state.

Brand Whitlock to Be Rome Ambassador

By JOHN EDWIN KEVIN Correspondent of the International News Service.

PARIS, June 9.—President Wilson has decided to appoint Brand Whitlock, now minister to Belgium, ambassador to Rome, succeeding Thomas Nelson Page. The promotion is in recognition of Whitlock's fine work at Brussels during the war.

Page is retiring to continue in his literary work. It is known, however, that he has been out of touch with President Wilson's views on the Italian situation.

General Strike in Italy Threatened

ROME, June 9.—Labor representatives in the Chamber of Deputies declared today they will order a general strike on Thursday unless the present government is settled. A walkout is to begin today at Genoa.

Beauty in Old Age.

You often see a beautiful old lady and she seems to be as happy as a child is beautiful, for beauty and happiness depend largely upon good health. Indigestion or constipation are to a great extent responsible when old age lacks beauty and happiness. This can often be remedied by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the digestion, invigorate the liver and move the bowels. This makes you feel better and look better. Try it. They only cost a quarter. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug

ESTHONIANS AND GERMAN TROOPS FIGHT

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—Esthonian forces have clashed with German Landwehr troops in the region east of Riga, where Lettish detachments have also been in serious fighting with the Germans, according to all official statements.

LONDON, June 9.—The Esthonian general staff considers itself forced to start military operations against the Germans, says a Helsingfors dispatch to the Mail. This action is in consequence of the action of Germans in the Ilga district in advancing behind the Holsheviki line for the purpose of occupying the eastern frontier of Latvia, which, with a treacherous attack upon the Esthonian by the German cavalry under orders from General Von Holtz, commander of the German forces in the Baltic region, it is said, "unmasked the Germans as accomplices of the Holsheviki."

VIENNA, June 9.—(Via London, June 9.) One hundred thousand Hungarian fields are engaged with the Czech forces in a fierce battle for possession of the city of Kormorn, it was reported from Budapest today. Monitors are shelling the Czech troops, who are slowly giving way.

(Kormorn lies at the junction of the Waag and Danube rivers, forty-eight miles northwest of Budapest.) Further details of the disarming of the Hungarian Bolshevik organization at Budapest, known as the "Lenine boys," has just been received here. A band of 300 radicals took possession of Count Andassy's palace, whence they issued forth on a series of raids.

The "Lenine boys" caused a reign of terror for nine weeks, during which time they raided many private houses, carrying off young women and valuables. Finally Bela Kun, the Red premier, intervened.

BOY IS DROWNED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—With in sight of several thousand people, Arthur Pearson, 4560 Seventeenth street, struggled without avail in the breakers at Willow Grove beach yesterday afternoon and was drowned before rescuers could reach him. His body was not recovered.

Coal Mine Loss Heavy Hun Blow Points of Difference in Treaty Text

CHICAGO, June 9.—Only in a few places does the new treaty, published in the Chicago Tribune today, differ from the sense of the original treaty, the summary of which was published after being given out by the committee on public information in Paris. The section in regard to the ownership of the mines in the Saar Valley and that in reference to the international labor program are the chief points of difference.

The Saar Valley provisions as published in the Tribune covered three and one-half columns. According to the Tribune's copy the provisions include: Germany freely concedes the Saar coal mines to France whether they be state or privately owned or still open. The mines shall constitute part of Germany's reparations to France.

Germany shall not hamper transportation in any manner. France may develop the property as she chooses.

The basin shall be governed by a commission representing the league of nations.

The commission shall consist of a Frenchman, a native of the Saar basin and three men not from Germany or France.

The commission shall be given the Saar archives and old laws will apply. The commission shall have powers. There is to be no military service for citizens. The territory will be subject to the French customs regime. There shall be free trade between the territory and Germany.

At the end of fifteen years all citizens over 20 may participate in a plebiscite to determine whether the commission shall continue or the basin shall unite with France or Germany.

If the basin decides to unite with Germany, the mines may be purchased from France in gold. If the appraised price is not paid in six

Suffrage Session Query to Governors

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—Governor J. A. A. Brundage today directed telegrams to governors of all other states asking them if they would call special legislative sessions this year to ratify the federal suffrage amendment.

Hines' Railroad Plea is Cut $450,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The House appropriation committee today reported the railroad appropriation bill, carrying $750,000,000. This is $150,000,000 less than Director General Hines asked the House to add to the railroad administration revolving fund.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Restore a Healthy Condition

Why permit your liver and kidneys to remain in a state of chronic dis-ease, when Bliss Native Herb Tablets taken at regular intervals will free you from pain and keep your system in sound physical health. Don't neglect them, for to do so will lead to perhaps very serious consequences. Take Bliss Native Herb Tablets at the first sign of trouble, and you will be greatly surprised at the results. They are wonderful everywhere as the standard herb remedy for all ill-effects of a disordered stomach. Constipation disappears, the liver and kidneys function properly, the blood becomes pure and healthy, the appetite improves, and the general system becomes invigorated. Mrs. Francis Meier, Brunswick, Ga., writes: "My liver and kidneys were very bad, but thanks to Bliss Native Herb Tablets, I have not a trace of my old trouble now. I shall continue to keep them on hand, just as long as I can get them."

Bliss Native Herb Tablets are put up 200 in a box, enough to last the average family six months. Price $1.00. Accept no substitutes. Look for the trade mark and money back guarantee on every box. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores—Advertisement.

Good for Indigestion.

If you are troubled with indigestion, take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. You will be surprised when you see how much better you are feeling after taking a few doses of them. For sale by Osgood Bros. Orpheum Play Is Rough on Poor Rich Mar

Rich men who are wooing girls will be very uncomfortable the Orpheum while the present "Which One Shall I Marry?" is running. The poor rich man isn't a look-in as a desirable husband though he is thoughtful enough to have a few millions dollars, though he brings fifty cents' worth of flowers or so when he comes to declare himself and cast himself as a fortune at the feet of the poor honest working girl, she scorns

The only thing the reviewer against the girl is that after she the vision she insists upon revealing to the audience, requiring her to sit through all the while, she incorporated all the basic cruelties husbands of fiction were ever able to invent for the torture of their most honest wives. For Burning Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any drugstore for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

PLAYGROUND PART OF LAKE BEACH PLAN

Request for a conference between Mayor John L. Davis and the playground board, at which the mayor's Lake Merritt bathing beach and stadium plan will be discussed, was made today through J. L. Nash, representing the board. Davis will set the conference for next week. The playground board, by resolution, has gone on record endorsing the mayor's project, and has referred to the mayor's petition signed by over a thousand residents and asking for a playground behind the Auditorium for the children of the neighborhood.

"Under my plan the children will get more of a playground than they have asked for," said the Mayor. "The site between Seventh and Eighth streets on Fallon, originally intended for a corporation yard, is proposed to be made into a playground, so that the bathing beaches, Auditorium, stadium and playground will make a continuous chain. It will give a much better and bigger playground."

This feature will be taken up together with the lake plan at the conference next week.

FORGERY SUSPECT HIS OWN SLEUTH

As a result of the detective work of Lester Stromberg, accused of forgery, his case was continued today by Judge James C. Quinn to enable the district attorney to determine whether or not he will ask to dismiss the charge. Stromberg, a Standard Oil employee of Richmond, was accused of forging the name of F. E. Lang, a garage owner, to a number of checks and cashing them. Some weeks ago he was held to answer in the Superior Court and released on bail.

Protesting his innocence of the charge, Stromberg quit his job and went out to find the man who committed the forgery, and Saturday night he appeared before the court in quarters in San Francisco with Stanley Kirkham, who confessed to having signed Stromberg's endorsement to five of the checks.

The district attorney is now investigating to ascertain whether in fact Kirkham is responsible for the entire crime.

The checks stolen from the garage were drawn in favor of Stromberg for amounts averaging $35 each. The man on which he went to trial today was cashed by F. S. Noble, proprietor of the Horseshoe Inn restaurant, on Thirteenth street. Noble says he does not remember Stromberg as the man who presented the check.

STORRS GIVEN FIVE-YEAR TERM

OKANOGAN, Wash., June 9.—Douglas M. Storrs, charged with seduction in connection with his alleged relations with Miss Ruth Garrison, 18-year-old Seattle girl, who poisoned Storrs' wife, Grace Glatz, in Seattle last spring, yesterday was found guilty by a jury in the court of Superior Judge John N. Jurey.

He was sentenced today to five years in the state penitentiary.

LEMON JUICE

FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. It is harmless and never irritates.—Advertisement.

MRS. WHEELER GAINS 17 POUNDS

Life Is Worth Living Since Tanlac Restored Health She Declares

"Just think of it, I have actually gained seventeen pounds and honestly believe Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Alma Wheeler, who resides at 1745 East Fifteenth street, Los Angeles, while discussing the medicine, recently.

"After nursing my husband through a serious illness about a year ago," continued Mrs. Wheeler, "my strength seemed to leave me, my nerves gave way and I broke almost completely down. I was so rundown, nervous that it would almost prohibit me to do my housework. My nerves were so shattered that I couldn't stand the noise of the children at play. I could hardly sleep and my stomach was so out of order that everything I would eat disagreed with me. I lost weight all the time and finally got so weak and nervous that I had to stop trying to drive out my car."

"Finally a lady friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac, and never until I began taking that medicine was I able to find anything to help me. When I began taking it I was nearly more than a frame and only weighed ninety-eight pounds, but now I tip the scales at one hundred and fifteen pounds. I now sleep well, eat heartily and my nerves are so good that no kind of noise disturbs me. I had gotten depressed and discouraged, but now I am enjoying good health again. Tanlac has certainly been a wonder-ful thing for me and several of my neighbors are now taking it on my recommendation."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

"Boy Scout Week" Given Big Boost Many Will Aid Movement Here

Interest is growing keener in the plans for "Boy Scout Week," which formally opened throughout the Nation yesterday, and it is the hope of those who are directing the work in this city and county that at least 2500 volunteer adults will be recruited here to assist in the national effort to increase the number, strength and efficiency of the Boy Scouts in the United States.

From all parts of the country come reports of good progress, and local workers are determined to bring the movement in Alameda county up to a high standard.

Under the chairmanship of Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough, thousands of men and women in Alameda county are mobilizing for the part in this movement to play in the great nation-wide "Boy Scout Week" movement, which began on June 8 and will end "Flag Day," June 14. This occasion was set aside by proclamation of President Wilson in recognition of the splendid services rendered by the Boy Scouts of America during the war.

MANY STUNTS STAGED
Parades, pageants, masques and stunts are being staged in the big cities and remote hamlets of the Nation alike.

"Never before in the history of the scout movement has anything been done on so great a scale," said Chairman Rosborough, when asked for a word of comment on the present drive. He continued:

"We want to project the light of public attention on the Boy Scouts of America as a movement which has grown to be the largest of its kind the world has ever known, a brotherhood of organized boyhood which builds solidly for the future, which prepares the young of today for the responsibilities of citizenship tomorrow."

Diamond Stud in Chinese Protest Surprise Party for Chief of Police

A diamond studded gold badge, the gift of officers and men of the police department, was presented to Chief J. F. Lynch today at the meeting of the city council. Mayor John L. Davis making the presentation. The affair was a surprise, the chief having no inkling of why he was called to the council.

The mayor sent for Lynch after the council convened, stating that a Chinese protest had been made against certain motion picture films, and Lynch appeared with a report on the matter.

"There's another thing, chief," remarked the mayor, producing the badge. "I have here a gift from the officers and men of the department;

I take great joy in presenting it to you in their behalf, for I know you will wear it with honor; that you will give the best in you to the city, and I am sure that you will have happened for the city that you were made chief."

Lynch, in accepting the gift, thanked the mayor and voiced his appreciation of his men. "It is co-operation that accomplishes things in a police force," he said. "No chief might succeed without it, and I feel that I have the co-operation of my men, and I prize and appreciate it. I will wear this badge, Mr. Mayor, with pride, and it shall be my purpose to see that no act of mine ever tarnishes the emblem."

MUSEUM FUND IS REQUESTED

Request of the library board that the sum of $75,000 be appropriated out of the next year's budget for the construction of the first unit of a new municipal museum, was received today by the city council. The library board's letter indicated the collection of offers of specimens and collections, worth a vast sum will be donated to the city as soon as a museum adequate to house them is ready, and suggests immediate action.

The matter was referred to the budget committee.

The sum of $8000 was appropriated from the street funds today to the Public Health and Safety fund to provide for jail supplies and other immediate necessities for which the regular fund has been exhausted. A protest from Chinese residents against the showing of a film called "The Red Lantern," was filed with the council and referred to the mayor and the chief of police, as the city's official film censors.

The city's cash on hand for the month was reported today by Auditor Harry G. Williams at $1,019,312. Income from the city post was turned in today, the total for licenses and recovery fees being $6770.

The council budget committee will hold its first meeting July 15, according to the action of the council today, when the city's needs will be gone over in fixing the new tax budget.

MANUFACTURERS EAST BAY WIN PLEA

Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Emeryville, Albany, and other cities on the mainland of San Francisco bay are to have a separate manufacturers' census in 1920, but are not to be made into a separate or "metropolitan" district of their own.

This is the word that comes to the Manufacturers' Bureau of the Oakland and included in the caption and that of Rogers, director of the census. The Eastbay district, together with San Francisco, is to be known as the "San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan district."

That the manufacturers have won a victory for which they have been fighting for several years. They have not won all that they were after, but they have got the name of Oakland included in the caption and that of Rogers, director of the census.

Rogers wrote from Washington that this decision had been much influenced by the showing made by the manufacturers with regard to the remarkable growth of Oakland industrially in the last four years. The results of a thorough and expert survey were sent to him showing an increase of 48.5 per cent in the population of the east bay cities since 1910, the total of that year being 226,576 against 335,000 in 1910. An increase of 400 per cent in employees of factories in the last four years, the industrial population now being placed at 50,000.

A conservative estimate of $60,000,000 paid out annually in factory payrolls.

An estimate of $30,000,000 expended in new factories or enlargements in that four years, these figures being based on building permits of not less than $5000.

HUNGRY MEN IN CITY JAIL TALK MUTINY

Threats of mutiny in the city jail, when the prisoners were served nothing but potatoes for breakfast, and the discovery that the city jail was absolutely empty, the fund for the purchase of jail provisions having been exhausted, has started an investigation by Chief of Police J. F. Lynch. Lynch, when he heard of conditions this morning, purchased supplies out of his own pocket for meals for the next two days, and in the meantime has voiced a vigorous protest.

According to the jailers they have been sending requisitions for groceries for the past week to the purchasing agent's office, but the groceries were not delivered. Today, when the prisoners had nothing for breakfast but potatoes, they appealed to Lynch, who was informed by Purchasing Agent Brill that the fund for jail food supplies was exhausted. Lynch has arranged for the council to make a temporary transfer covering the rest of the month, new funds to be available in July. For food for today and tomorrow he bought out of his own pocket.

"My complaint is that we were not told of this when the first requisition was held up," he said. "The jailers worked on a sack of beans, a sack of coffee and what they had, expecting the new supplies daily. Today, when everything was exhausted, they were told that there was no money."

"I don't believe in pink tea for prisoners—but I do believe in humane treatment and enough food. I eat myself—I know men have to. Starvation starts mutinies."

New funds will be ready to tide the prison commissary over by tomorrow.

TEN INJURED WHEN STREET CARS COLLIDE

Following a collision in which two street cars, crowded with Sunday picnickers and attendants at the Holy Ghost festival at Hayward crashed together, head on, last night at Stanley road and East Fourteenth street, near the Oakland-San Leandro boundary line, half a score are today recovering from painful bruises and other injuries.

Mrs. Jennie Valenzuela, 164 Cook street, San Francisco, is suffering from bad cuts and a bruised side, after being thrown from the window of one of the cars. W. F. Mulcahey, 557 Seventh street, Oakland suffered a wrenched back and body bruises. Both have been removed to their homes. The other passengers injured escaped with only minor bruises which were not treated at the emergency hospital.

Had the cars been going at a swift rate of speed, according to the motormen, many would probably have been killed. The passengers, packed into the cars, were thrown to the floor in piles and a near-panic resulted. Cool heads among the crowd restored order, and the two worst injured in the cars were rushed in an auto to the emergency hospital.

The trains met where the double tracks of the Hayward line narrow to a single track through San Leandro. The Elmhurst car was just leaving the double rails, and the Hayward car coming in toward Oakland. With crowds hanging onto both cars, appearances deceived the motormen, who thought the cars had "cleared" and could pass each other. The corners of the cars engaged, the shock throwing the passengers about inside both cars.

The Hayward car was bringing back special delegations from San Francisco and Oakland to the Holy Ghost celebration held there.

From the TRIBUNE TOWER

Because Judge James Quinn, justice of the peace at Pleasanton, does his own housework, Charles R. Roth of San Francisco, motorist who likes a little speed, is out not only a $25 fine, but also a round of drinks for the judge's courtroom.

Roth handed the little card by the speed officer, showed up at Quinn's courtroom, to find a man in overalls, whom he took to be the janitor, sweeping out the place.

"Know the judge?" he asked. "Yep—pretty well," answered the speaker.

"Got influence with him?" "Yes—much as anyone in town I reckon."

Roth produced cigars "Listen, Mr. Janitor," he said. "You see, I've been pinched for speeding—I was sure stepping on her too—fifty miles an hour." "I want you to say a word to the judge for me."

The man in overalls said he would. He disappeared in the direction of the judge's chambers.

Then court convened Roth entered a plea of not guilty—then glanced at the judge. "Horror!" The judge, with a different suit of clothes on, sat at the bench.

Er—who did your janitor work today?" suggestively asked Prosecuting Attorney Frank Shaw. The judge looked at the prisoner. "I did it, this morning," he said, "and I guess this gentleman wants to change his plea to guilty and pay a fine of twenty-five dollars, too."

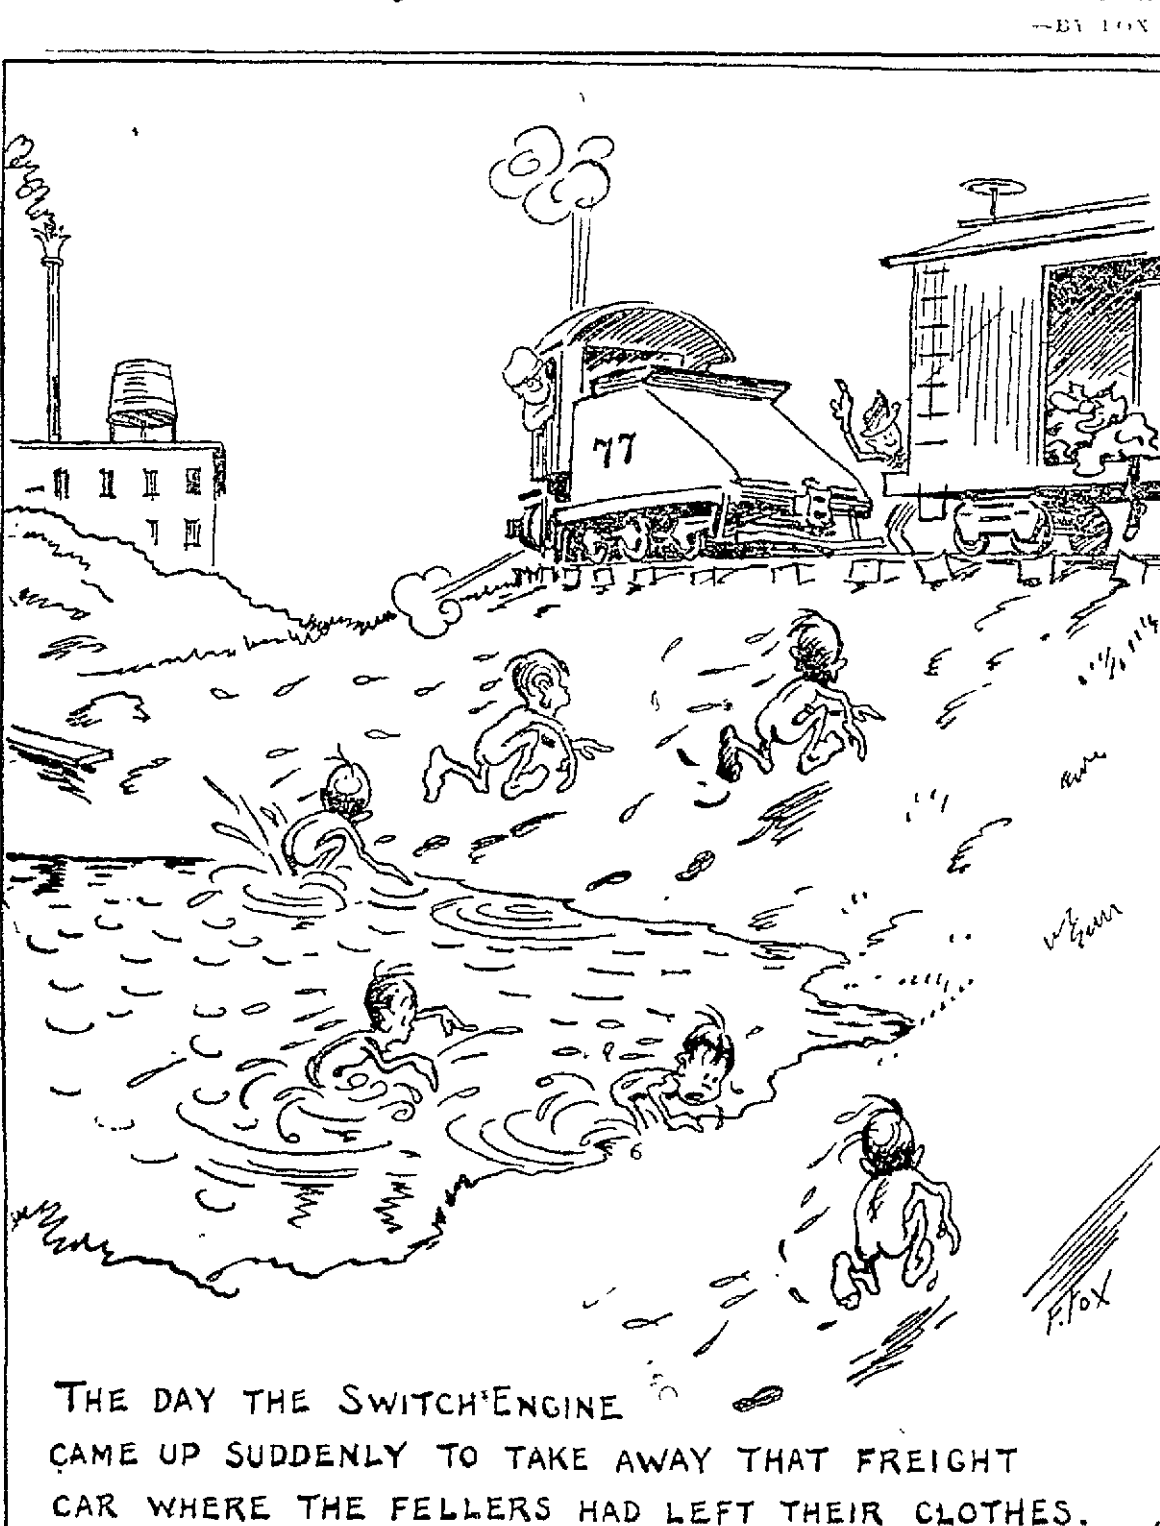

"Yes—sure—glad to," and the drinks for the whole court are on me, too!" said the San Francisco defendant. Next time he'll find out who he's talking to in a country court.

TRIBUNE'S DAILY ALMANAC

JUNE 9

The fact that John Howard Payne was born on this day, 1791, and was destined to write "Home, Sweet Home," had nothing to do with the formation of the San Francisco vigilance committee in 1851, same date. It may be that the committee had visions of what future parlor mantel tenors were going to do with Payne's plaint. But we're not sure. At any rate, battles were fought at Beverly Ford and Brandy Station, June 9, 1863.

"I'm going to do the socks the very best thing," I explained with dignity. "And I shall do a practice pair first."

"But not for me to wear, darling," Dick said with mock terror. "Oh, please, I beg of you, you're not going to make me wear them, are you?"

TO HER ADVANTAGE?

"Oh, be still, Dick," little Mrs. Durkee commanded. "That's perfectly lovely of you, Madge. I never learned to knit, and I was going down to take some lessons so I could knit a set of things for Alfred. But I was quaking in my boots about it, because I'm stupid about learning new things. I'm so glad you're coming to do it. I'll learn how just the same, so that by the time his first outfit wears out I'll have another one ready."

"What are you making there?" Alfred asked lazily.

I had been industriously knitting every spare minute of the evening.

"A helmet," I returned. "You know the wristlets are the apprentice work, and I have done two pairs of these. But this is my first helmet, and I'm a bit dubious about it. I've done it just according to the directions, but this opening for the face doesn't seem big enough."

"You probably have made some unwritten mistake in the directions," put in Cousin Agatha smoothly. "Lanth-

Lucrezia Bori on BEAUTY

In this workaday world there are few things that have greater charm than well-cared-for nails. All hands may not be beautiful, but every woman's fingers may express beauty through capability and cleanliness which produces a more lasting than mere beauty.

The first step toward pretty hands is the weekly manicure. Even that may be reduced to a minimum of effort by a daily shaping and polishing of your nails.

Unless the cuticle around your nails is excessively hard and thick it shouldn't be touched. A daily rubbing of a little cold cream around your nails and a gentle pushing back of the cuticle will keep it in shape on most hands.

File your nails with a finely-grained steel file or with emery boards. Don't run the file under your nails to clean them. This only roughens the under edge and makes the nail accumulate dirt and discoloration. Use a soft orange stick to clean your nails.

A NAIL CREAM.

If your nails are shaped each day with a few strokes of the file or emery, the cuticle worked back, and a good polish rubbed over the surface with a chamois butter or with the palm of a cool hand your nails will appear attractive and well-cared for at all times.

A good cream for your nails, may be prepared from the following ingredients:

Pure cold pressed leaf lard . . . 1 ounce
Tincture of carmine . . . 1 dram
Tincture of benzoin . . . 15 drops
Oil of bergamot . . . 30 drops
Oil of ylang-ylang . . . 15 drops
Rub the tincture of benzoin and oil of ylang-ylang together, incorporating thoroughly, then add the carmine, blending it well by rubbing. Lastly add the oils of ylang-ylang and bergamot.

A little of this cream may be rubbed into your nails each night. It will keep the cuticle soft and help to prevent your nails from becoming brittle.

OTHER FINE AIDS.

A good nail powder, a duplicate of which is frequently sold in fancy containers with import labels, is made of the following:

Oxide of tin . . . 4 drams
Doric acid . . . 2 drams
Talcum powder . . . 2 drams
Oil of lavender . . . 15 drops
Oil of violet . . . 20 drops
Rub these ingredients together in a porcelain bowl until they're well mixed. This powder should be applied with a brush to your nails and brushed rubbed.

If a rose-colored powder is desired add to the above tincture of carmine, 10 drops.

Mix until the color is uniform throughout.

Pressing the tips of your fingers in a small bowl of warm water which 10 drops of tincture of benzoin has been added is an agreeable tonic for your nails, as benzoin is a moderate skin stimulant. Its application is done by dipping the nail in the water and giving your finger-tip a rosy color.

This benzoin application is recommended for pale persons whose nails are apt to appear colorless. The use of benzoin and water in the above proportions can be repeated daily.

If your nails, through work or accident, require a bleach, a satisfactory one may be made of these ingredients:

Hydrogen peroxide . . . 1 ounce
Ammonia . . . 1 ounce
Fresh lemon juice . . . 1 ounce
Mix these together and keep the lotion in a dark glass-stoppered bottle. The mixture, if made without the addition of lemon juice, can be prepared in larger quantities and kept on hand, but it is better to prepare it freshly as so little is required for use at a time.

Jimmy—old-boy!

A LETTER-PLAY BY RICHARD WIGHTMAN

The Usual Village

To J. O. B. HOMELAND

Homeland isn't a very big village, Jim, but in spite of that the human race is pretty well represented here.

The business section of the town sports several Shylocks—if Shylocks are susceptible of being sports—and Dublin Lane is lined on both sides with Bible characters, including a sanguinary Cain, a wife Solomon, a pious Daniel, a wicked Jezebel, Ruth and Naomi, and a certain Zachariah who isn't bigger than a peanut and tends the lunch counter at the railroad station.

J. P. Morgan runs the local bank, being chiefly distinguished from the cashier by the fact that he sits in the inner room and smokes with his feet on the table. Carrie Nation presides over the village moralities; and William Hohenzollern is attempting with considerable gusto, and all the strategy he can think of, to control the political situation by force of arms, gas attacks and bombs dropped into the polling booths from hot air planes.

We have three churches with a large Easter millinery attendance amounting almost to religious congestion, and an amusement club for young men that is closed Sundays. Sunday being the only day the young men have a chance to get amused.

High in the center of the village is the town pump, nice and handy. The only trouble with the pump is that it never raises any water for thirsty man and thirsty beast, but its woodwork affords a fine place to tack tax notices and auction bills.

And then there is the Town Hall. There is where we meet to view the notables of the screen—about three years after they were photographed in what were then the latest photographs. When the screen notables get to us, after swinging around the world for three years in other town halls, their faces are scratched, their clothes torn, and they apparently do all their performing in the rain on account of the longitudinal wear and tear through which the film has passed before it gets to us—but we don't mind that. We are movie fans, very breezy, and would rather see Victor Moore any time than sit home and read the Beacon Lights of History.

In the Town Hall the records are kept. That is, the public records. The private records wouldn't keep anywhere. They would crumble to dust at the slightest exposure.

Just opposite the records there is a cell with an iron cot and a spittoon. Two or three years ago there was a man in there one night for intoxication. But after the onrush of First of July the cell will be chronically vacant. There will be no more alcoholic sin in this village.

By this you will see, Jim, that Homeland is progressive and well equipped and has no drawbacks or lack of excitement and conveniences. It is a thoroughly modern old town—just like all the rest.

Winifred Black Writes about FOLKS AND THINGS

WELL, here they are, back again in the very height of fashion, when we all had been put on the back shelf of the painter for ever and for ever more.

Doughnuts and pie! The old-fashioned doughnuts such as grandma used to make—no raised dough for her, thank you, and no fancy flavoring either—just plain, home-made doughnuts in a ring-around-a-rosy circle.

Apple pie! Apple pie she'd with a little butter and sugar inside the crust—and a real crust, that is, a piece of that apple pie and a good chunk of American cream cheese and a glass of real milk with some of the cream stirred into it, sit down in your own house at your own table with the blue-and-white tablecloth and the blue-and-white plate and—be a pessimist if you can!

Pumpkin pie—if you pronounce it as it was spelled with a "p" in the middle of it, you've never even tasted the real thing. Cranberry pie with a checker-board across the top. Raisin pie—they say our boys in France walked ten miles through the rain, time and time again, just to get a bit of that. Mince pie—rich, spicy, and tantalizing, inviting—oh, well, what's the use?

OLD-FASHIONED DAINTIES.

Since the war they've all come back again—every Doughboy home from France, every sailor at port after the stormy seas of every ocean—who knows what home is, yes, even every M. C. A. man and every Red Cross woman that has been overseas—all have come home with a mad passion for old-fashioned American pie and doughnuts.

Hurray! Now perhaps it will be the fashion to have some home-made bread once in a while, and maybe you can find a cook somewhere who knows what you mean when you say "baked beans and baked ham," and doesn't serve you some outrageous boiled beef, trussed with tomatoes and flavored with catsup.

Mine, we'll even set back to chess pie. What? You've never eaten that? Then you don't know what a baste in the cut is, and you've never eaten some enough homey at its sure enough home down south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Corn bread has come back, too, and so has the famous pop over. Why, I even expect to have some home-baked ask for a bowl of bread and milk with some berries of some sort thrown in for a relish—just as his granddaddy used to do when he'd never heard of a French fry—never seen an "a la" of a kind in his life.

French cooking—yes, it's all very well once in a while.

The French can teach how to make salads and soups, and how not to fry a steak—and they can make nothing or worse than nothing taste like something when they're a mind to—but with good materials at hand, and common sense to know that the woman who fries a beefsteak doesn't see to be shot at summer, I'll take my chances with a good home-grown hand-picked American cook any day in the week and any hour in the day.

BACK IN FASHION.

I've suddenly at the last French dinner I'm going to eat of my own free will for at least ten years.

I'm tired of "hors d'oeuvres" and tired of "rois," and tired of little, messy, whipped up nothings for dessert. I want a plain, substantial food that you can tell by sight, the minute you look at it, and that tastes like what it is.

I want mashed potatoes, whipped up with a little cream, and flavored by a cook who knows the true uses of salt and pepper.

I want baked potatoes in their jackets, plenty of them—and I want a roast of beef that comes on the table all at once, so I can have the fun of looking at it and thinking how good it's going to taste.

I want layer cakes—chocolate and orange, and jelly, too, the old-fashioned kind with five layers and plenty of jelly. And I want lemon pie without too much starch in it, and jelly cake.

I want ginger cookies—big, brown, round ones that are thick enough to make a bite and soft enough to crumble. And I want one-two-three-four-cake, and just the minute that the strawberries come on I'm going to have an old-fashioned shortcake made of biscuit dough and served hot with plenty of cream, and there's just one place in the world where I can get it, and that place is in the little old U. S. A.

Hurray for pie and doughnuts—they're back in the fashion again!

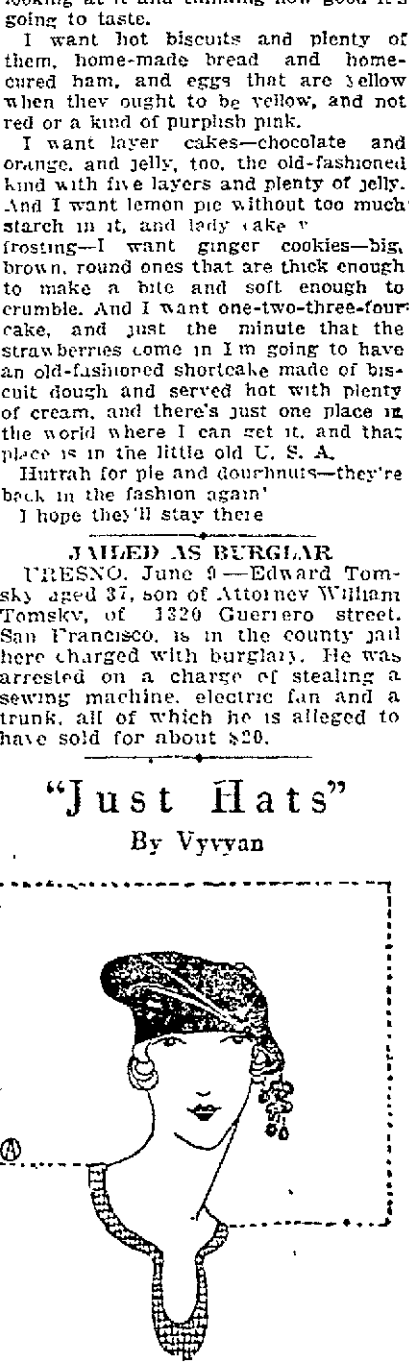

I hope they'll stay there!

PAGEANT TO TELL HISTORY OF STANFORD

STANFORD, June 9.—Portraying the romance of the early day history and the later growth of the Leland Stanford Jr. University, the students and faculty of that university are to present a pageant "The Story of a Great University," on the track oval at the Stanford campus on Saturday evening.

Five episodes comprise the pageant and carry the audience from the time before the white man had arrived to the re-dedication of the University to the spirit of service which characterizes after-war ideals of education.

The second episode to represent the spirit of the Alma Mater will include a repetition of the first inaugural delivered by David Starr Jordan as he delivered it twenty-eight years ago. The third episode shows the university preparing to send her best to the world war and the fourth scenes of Stanford service on the battlefields and in the Belgian homes in Europe.

The final scene, "The Builders," typifies the welcome home of the men who fought for civilization and the re-dedication of the University to the spirit of service in the new epoch.

The production is being handled by the following pageant committee: Ruth Mantz (chairman), Jessie Chase, H. D. Gray, S. P. Hollingsworth, Margery Bailey, Ruth Lakin, R. C. Alexander, Loretta Fast.

Those who will handle other details of the arrangements are: Garnet Holme (director), S. P. Hollingsworth (business manager), Ellen Calver, E. R. Flint, Costumes—R. C. Alexander, Properties—A. J. Bridges, Publicity—Albert W. Leeds, Ticket sale—Loretta Frankendelf, Lighting—Vincent Duffy, Stage—S. C. Pardee.

The patrons of the pageant are: Dr. and Mrs. David Starr Jordan, Dr. and Mrs. Bay Lyman Wilbur, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Branner, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDowell, Judge George E. Crothers, Theodore J. Hoover, William Darsey, A. T. De Ponce, Mrs. E. G. Towne, Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Kirk.

1920 Convention of Lions Sought Here
Frank A. Rittigstein, president of Oakland Den, International Association of Lions Clubs, left yesterday for a week at Chicago, before starting a tour of about six weeks, during which he will visit other large cities east of Chicago.

Rittigstein, who recently retired from the hardware business in Oakland, will study conditions in all parts of the country. During his stay in Chicago he will make an effort to get the 1920 convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs for Oakland. Mayor John L. Davis, H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and others are supporting Rittigstein in his efforts to bring the convention to this city.

GOV. LISTER UNCHANGED
SEATTLE, June 9.—The condition of Governor Lister, who has been sick in a local hospital for several weeks, was practically unchanged today, although his pulse at 100 shows better quality, according to his personal physician.

5000 BOY ENTRANCE TO YOSEMITE VALLEY
Nearly 5000 of the 55 certificates of motor vehicle entrance to Yosemite National Park were sold yesterday by the large force of volunteer salesmen, it was reported today by Edward H. Brown, manager of the Yosemite Valley Highway Association's campaign to raise $1,000,000 to guarantee the construction of a paved year-round highway from Merced to El Portal.

Hundreds of motorists crossed the highway drive and end throughout California next Saturday night. By that time San Francisco is expected to purchase 40,000 entry slips. More than half of the San Francisco quota of certificates has been taken.

JEWIS PLAIN MEETING TO PROTEST MASSACRES
A mass meeting to protest against the wholesale slaughter of Jews and mistreatment of Jewish women in Poland, Galicia, Bucovina, Czechoslovakia and Rumania will be held Wednesday evening in Scott's Rice Auditorium.

The list of speakers will include several of San Francisco's most prominent citizens, Rabbi Herman Lissauer announced yesterday.

The mass meeting to be held Wednesday evening is the outcome of a preliminary meeting held here on June 1 under the auspices of the Workmen's Circle of San Francisco No. 114.

Similar meetings are being held throughout the United States in an effort to awaken the National Government to the injustice being done to members of the Jewish faith in Europe.

In charge of the local meetings are Rabbi Jacob Nieto, president; Arthur W. Jones, secretary; Samuel Chiswick, assistant; and Adolph Koshland, treasurer.

FINLAND OUSTS BOLSHEVISM NEWS OF SAN FRANCISCO JEWS TO PROTEST MASSACRES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—That Finland has successfully eradicated Bolshevism, which threatened to overwhelm the country, and that the Finnish army easily can take and hold Petrograd, if backed by the rest of the world, was declared yesterday by Jacob de Julin, commercial commissioner of Finland to the United States, who is here.

He described the attack of the Bolsheviks on Finland as a major place in the attempted Russification of Finland that has been going on for many years. He said:

"Now that our twenty-five years' war of independence is over, we are a nation at last, for which we thank America most of all, since the food ships and recognition have given us courage and a place in the world as a political entity."

"General Mannerheim, who commanded the Finnish White Guards in the fight against the Bolsheviks, is Finland's big man. If he will accept the nomination, he will be our first president."

"Still Russia is very near us, and one reason why we would like to receive word from Finland is to move the Bolshevik frontier back a few more miles from us, instead of thirty-five miles only, as at present."

FISH PRICES DUE FOR DROP SOON
Fish prices in the bay districts are due for a material drop, according to A. Bigelow, secretary of the California Fish Exchange, which has fixed today's prices for the first time in two months.

Wholesale and retail fishermen will meet each night with Secretary Bigelow and advise as to the prices for the following day, based on the extent of the catch.

Secretary Bigelow has requested that any overcharge be reported to the office of the exchange in the Underwood building.

"We have kept a careful record of prices that have prevailed in the past two months during the time the exchange suspended fixing of prices," said Bigelow. "In the majority of the standard varieties of fish these prices can be materially reduced."

BULLETS ARE FIRED IN STREET ROW
Joseph Bertolucci, a saloon man of 53 Sixth street, was arrested and Jerry Haggerty of 4219 Broadway street was taken to the Central Emergency hospital with a bullet through his right leg, following a street quarrel at Sixth and Howard streets.

According to Bertolucci's story to Policeman J. J. Rooney he was returning from a dance with a young woman who gave the name of Gladys Thompson when Haggerty and three other men attempted to attack them with clubs.

Bertolucci said he fired to protect the girl and himself. His bullet wounded Haggerty and the other three men fled. The police say Haggerty will be held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon pending an investigation, and the Thompson girl will be subpoenaed as a witness.

DEATH VALLEY FOOT HITS SAN FRANCISCO
Clarence L. Eddy, clad in corduroys, digging boots, khaki shirt and a four-gallon felt sombrero, hit San Francisco last night by way of the Death Valley trail and ran through the streets on a quiet quest for some "partner" of the pick or pen.

He uses em both, does Clarence. San Franciscans who know him say he has discovered minerals from which several millions in gold and silver have been recovered, notably the Carbonate property near Bennett's hole in Death Valley.

But Clarence invariably sold his prospects before they were developed, and with the proceeds renewed his roaming in desolate places where Nature has hidden her riches.

He is better known to certain literary circles in San Francisco as the "prospector poet."

Airman is Secretary for Manufacturers
The Manufacturers' Bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce has a new secretary, John Lyle, recently discharged from the aviation service of the United States, who assumed his duties this morning.

He succeeds Eugene Bowles, who was appointed to the position when Frederick Beagle Jr. resigned some months ago to take the secretaryship of the California Manufacturers' Association. Bowles will continue at the head of the publicity bureau.

Lyle has a record of more than 400 hours in the air as a flyer for Uncle Sam. He trained at Baron field, in Texas, and in Washington, D. C.

Inspector. He will devote his time almost exclusively to the affairs of the Manufacturers' Bureau, as the industrial growth of the Eastbay office has been so marked recently as to require the undivided attention of one secretary.

PHILANTHROPIST SHOT BY SICK MAN
LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Caesar Samuels, 70, Jewish philanthropist and treasurer of the Jewish Free Loan and Credit Association of Los Angeles, was shot and probably fatally injured today by Lewis Goldfield, a tubercular patient who, following the shooting, told the police he had determined to kill Samuels because the association had refused to loan him money.

The shooting occurred in the association's headquarters in South Bunker Hill street. Samuels was taken to the receiving hospital in a dying condition.

Goldfield attempted to commit suicide after the shooting, but because of weakness caused by the advanced stage of his disease, was too weak to pull the trigger of his weapon. He is 39 years old and has a wife and three children in Youngstown, O.

Testimony in Tax Suit Favors Heirs
Testimony favoring the heirs in the suit of the state treasurer against the estate of the late F. W. Schultz, Oakland capitalist, to collect $40,000 inheritance tax, was offered today before Judge F. S. Sore by Mrs. Annie Donahue, for twenty-five years a close associate of the deceased. The witness testified that Schultz, who prior to his death, organized the F. W. Schultz Corporation with his children as directors and stockholders, did so in order that his children could share in the management of the $1,000,000 holding and enjoy the benefits before he died. She denied that the corporation was formed in contemplation of death to defeat the inheritance tax, as claimed by the state.

The heirs deny the contention of the complainant that Schultz was in feeble health at the time the property was transferred to the corporation, as testified to by Miss Emma Westergore, his nurse.

KAHN SAYS U.S. WILL REFUSE ALL ALLIANCES

WASHINGTON, June 9.—America will refuse to enter an alliance with Great Britain and France, Julius Kahn of California, chairman of the house military affairs committee, predicted in the House today during debate on the army bill.

"America will never ratify such treaties," Kahn declared. During his recent trip abroad many of the Frenchman pressed Kahn on his views on the proposed alliance and which President Wilson will lay before Congress on his return.

"I told them frankly that our country had from its birth avoided alliances and I did not believe that a majority of my countrymen would countenance such treaties now, or at any other time in the future," Kahn told the house.

"From the beginning Americans have been taught that we must avoid entangling alliances. We know that Europe is a hell-hole of political plotting and intrigue. Let us get out of Europe as speedily as possible and return to the teachings of our first president."

OAKLAND AD MEN GO TO PORTLAND
PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle, president of the National Association of Advertisers, met at a meeting in the Municipal Auditorium to welcome delegates to the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Ad Clubs.

Mayor Hanson delivered his address, in which he would positively be in the last day upon which payment can be made without penalty and interest being asserted.

The collector pointed out that the new revenue law omits the three-day grace period allowed under the former law.

Statements of the accounts of all income and profits taxes in the district have been sent out through the mails, the collector said, but if for any reason the taxpayer who has a liability falling due June 16 fails to receive a statement, the obligation is upon the taxpayer to get in touch with the collector's office and make the payment.

The law and regulations provide that where any installment is not paid when due the whole amount of the tax unpaid becomes due.

ANNOUNCEMENT
The increased cost of every material that enters into the production of a metropolitan newspaper finally has made it impossible to maintain the five-cent price for the big Sunday productions.

Beginning with next Sunday's issue, June 15th, the retail price of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE and the San Francisco Examiner and the San Francisco Chronicle will be ten cents per copy everywhere.

Beginning the same day, the retail price of the Los Angeles Times and the Los Angeles Examiner on Sunday will be ten cents per copy everywhere.

Newspaper readers have become accustomed to a Sunday issue that surpasses even the twenty-five cent magazines in entertaining and instructive features. Publishers have continued to provide this service at a steadily increased loss. The actual cost of the white paper alone has been in excess of the price to the purchaser.

COBURN DEATH STICK IS LOST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Disappearance of the stick with which Mrs. Satira Coburn was murdered in her home at Pescadero, added another mystery to the tangle of complications surrounding the death of the widow of Loren Coburn, millionaire and eccentric character.

The stick, which the detectives say had on it finger prints that might clear her imbecile son, now under arrest charged with the slaying, is missing. District Attorney Swann and Sheriff Sheehan of San Mateo county, who have charge of the case, have ordered a search made for it at once.

Wallace Coburn, the imbecile son, now under observation at a sanatorium, is unable to cast any light on the mystery to date. Aliens are watching him, but say that there has been nothing connected in his incoherent ramblings to the death of the widow of Loren Coburn.

Detectives accompanied by District Attorney Swann, went over the scene of the murder yesterday and Swann said that the investigation would continue with the idea in view that some person other than the aged imbecile now in custody committed the crime. There was no evidence of attempted robbery and no motive has been found for the slaying.

Mrs. Coburn, whose husband was famous for dozens of freak lawsuits it was his custom to start, was killed June 6, under mysterious circumstances, being beaten to death in the Coburn home at Pescadero. Her stepson, who has been mentally deficient all his life, was arrested. The stick with which the murder was committed, upon which was found in the place, disappeared during the investigation of the crime.

June 16 Last Day to Pay Profits Tax
That obligations and individuals having income and profits tax liability may not be under any misapprehension as to the law and regulations concerning the due date of the second installment payment, Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell today announced that Monday, June 16, would positively be the last day upon which payment can be made without penalty and interest being asserted.

The collector pointed out that the new revenue law omits the three-day grace period allowed under the former law.

Statements of the accounts of all income and profits taxes in the district have been sent out through the mails, the collector said, but if for any reason the taxpayer who has a liability falling due June 16 fails to receive a statement, the obligation is upon the taxpayer to get in touch with the collector's office and make the payment.

WHY DO WOMEN SUFFER
When There is Such a Remedy for Their Ills as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Mishawaka, Ind.—"I had such a severe female weakness that I could not do my work and I could not get anything to relieve me. A physician treated me, but it did no good. I had been in this condition for three months when I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (bottle form) and I cured me. I keep house and am able to do my work now. I certainly praise your medicine."—Mrs. Suna Oldfather, 548 West Second Street, Mishawaka, Ind.

Women who suffer from such ailments should not continue to drag around and do their work under such conditions, but profit by the experience of Mrs. Oldfather and thousands of others who have tried this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found relief from such suffering. If complications exist, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

Newspaper readers have become accustomed to a Sunday issue that surpasses even the twenty-five cent magazines in entertaining and instructive features. Publishers have continued to provide this service at a steadily increased loss. The actual cost of the white paper alone has been in excess of the price to the purchaser.

San Francisco and Oakland are practically the last big cities to yield to this burden of cost. While the newspapers of New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle have gradually raised the price of their Sunday paper to meet the extraordinary increase in the cost of production, the San Francisco and Oakland Sunday papers have remained the same.

The hope that cost prices in the production of newspapers might recede has not been realized. The load has become too heavy and it is necessary to make this advance now in order to maintain quality and volume and reduce the publishing loss to a reasonable minimum.

The papers want it distinctly understood that in making the price ten cents for the Sunday paper there is no increase in the monthly subscription price for daily papers which are now delivered to regular subscribers and which also includes the large and expensive Sunday edition. This price of ten cents a copy is only for single copies of Sunday papers bought from newsboys, or at the news stands, or Sunday editions alone delivered by carrier.

The newspapers ask their patrons and friends to remember that in bearing the nominal increase of five cents on their Sunday paper they are aiding the paper to secure a portion only of the greatly increased cost of material and labor.

MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1919.

POLAND MUST PROTECT JEWS.

The entire world of Jewry has received with deepest concern the news of outrages of violence against the Jews of Poland. Fearing fresh horrors of anti-Jewish pogroms the governments of this country and the European Allies have been appealed to take such steps as will immediately guarantee the safety from persecution of the Jews of Poland. Strong representations have been made to the peace conference in Paris with a view to causing the Allied commissioners to recognize the danger and to accept the obligation to do everything within their power to prevent a new Russian horror in the form of an organized attack of extermination upon the Jews.

Resolutions have been passed at mass meetings in Oakland, San Francisco and nearly every other large city in the country, calling upon the government to move the new Polish authorities to afford such protection as may be possible to the Jewish element in Poland. But President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George have already learned of the situation directly. They have complete knowledge of conditions in Poland and are in the best possible position to see that the desired safeguards are established.

According to a despatch from Paris dated June 1, Premier Paderewski proposed to ask President Wilson to appoint a commission of Americans to go to Poland and investigate the charges regarding the treatment of the Jews. Premier Paderewski had heard of the aroused sentiment in this country, as appears from the following extract from a letter from him to Mr. Herbert C. Hoover: "I have been considering our discussion on the position of the Jews in Poland, and particularly the action of the recent meeting in New York protesting against the treatment of the Jews. The misstatements through which that meeting was influenced have affected me profoundly, and as I and my colleagues in the Polish government have nothing to conceal I have decided to request the President to appoint an American commission to visit Poland and investigate. If it finds any case of transgression of the law where justice has not been done the Polish government will attempt to administer it rigorously."

This is a laudable suggestion. The presence of such a commission would be, if nothing else, a strong influence for honest effort on the part of the Polish government officials to afford the maximum of protection. Mr. Paderewski knows, from his long residence in and wide knowledge of America that nothing will so quickly alienate sympathy for the government of the new Polish republic than a recrudescence of the pogroms made common under the czaristic regime of Russia. He knows that if he fails to exert himself to the utmost to prevent further atrocities he will be considered by his American friends and well-wishers as having made a miserable failure in a high and important trust.

A special commission to investigate and observe conditions in Poland would also constitute a means of reliable information concerning those conditions. It would provide a check against exaggerations and falsehoods that might be promulgated by pro-Germans who desire nothing quite so much as to see the new Polish republic fail. Enemy propaganda must still be guarded against.

The Allied governments, and particularly the United States, have a definite responsibility to see that the Polish government survives all attacks and intrigues. They have sponsored Independent Poland. It is the main link in the eastern frontier against aggressive Germany and the western frontier against Russian bolshevism. Nothing will go so far to insure the permanence of the Polish government as giving to that government the capacity and a willingness to maintain order and enforce the laws against violation of the rights of all citizens and residents of its territory.

Massachusetts is a state to which reference is often made in recalling broad vision, intelligent conception and effective action in the administration of government. But the Massachusetts legislature recently performed an astonishing act. It voted to increase the compensation of its members by 50 per cent. There was no debate on the bill, which speaks well for the affirmative side; perhaps the opposition, if there was any, recognized its case was hopeless. The governor is expected to veto the bill, but if he does not several Massachusetts voters probably will reach the conclusion that no legislator who voted for the pay-grab measure ought to be returned to office.

GERMANY'S CONFESSION.

Germany has acknowledged the principle of the reparation payments which the Allies propose to assess against her, and has confessed obligation to pay. And as a sign of this confession of guilt she has offered to pay a penalty of $25,000,000,000—one-fifth in 1920 and the balance by the end of 1927. This is the sum Germany suggests for covering crimes contrary to the universally accepted rules of warfare, the laws of nations and the practices of civilization.

Having confessed the crimes and the obligation to make reparation there is no longer any question of dispute between the Allied and German government on the principle of reparations or the responsibility for illegal acts. The questions remaining to be determined are solely the amount of the loss incurred by the Allied governments and nationals and the extent to which Germany is able to pay. These questions must be decided by the Allies. The word of the German government may be received but it cannot be trusted. Consequently the purpose of the Allies to leave the question of the total reparation amount open until the maximum of German ability to pay is ascertained is founded upon experience, wisdom and safety.

Recently TIM THACKE called attention to the statement before the Weimar national assembly by the German minister of finance showing that Germany must prepare to finance interest payments and amortization on a national debt of approximately $45,000,000,000. This amount was for the most part composed of domestic war loans, to which was added large appropriations for the maintenance of the German military establishment. It was pointed out that if payments on account of the German domestic war loans were suspended, the military appropriations reduced and the value of German holdings in Allied countries credited to the indemnification account, Germany could arrange, according to her own calculation, to make reparation to the extent of fifty or sixty billion dollars.

The Berlin government therefore aims to get off lightly when it proposes to pay $25,000,000,000, even leaving out of consideration the fact that it hopes ultimately to escape payment of part of any sum agreed upon. A reparation charge of $25,000,000,000 on a 5 per cent basis would require an interest charge of $1,250,000,000 a year and a sinking fund to discharge the debt within thirty years of an additional $375,000,000. This would be an annual total of $1,625,000,000 to be paid during the first few years of the settlement—until the payments from the sinking fund began significantly to reduce the principal.

Such a financial undertaking would not be heavy, as may already have been assumed from the confession of Germany to liability in the above amount. The obligation having been admitted, a close agreement among the Allies will provide for the certain payment of any amount agreed upon in the peace treaty and Germany's wriggling to escape be rendered fruitless.

The complaint against the daylight saving law on the ground that it is founded upon and perpetuates falsehood provokes the question, How many people are guided by absolutely correct time? About 99 per cent of the clocks of the country were false before Congress passed the daylight saving law and will remain false after that law is repealed. There are four exceedingly narrow imaginary lines in North America at which "sun time" and "standard time" coincide. At every other point there is a difference between the two "times" of from one to fifty-nine minutes. Clocks are actually only conventions for counting hours. They fail to all practical purposes to indicate correctly the position of the earth with reference to the sun. About the only person who deals honestly with time is the farmer without a clock, who arises by cockcrow, goes to lunch according to the direction of the shadow cast by his plowshare, quits work when the sun sinks below the western horizon and who retires to the songs of the katydids, whippoorwills and frogs.

The women of America, and all who are in favor of equality in suffrage, have seen the difference in the way of treating the matter by the two great national parties. The national administration, having absolute charge of the government and controlled from a quarter that is undoubtedly opposed to equal suffrage, jockeyed through six years in trying to have it appear that it was not opposed. It gave a masterful exemplification of how not to do it, seemingly assuming that it would be some mitigation to defeat the measure finally by one vote. With the control of Congress switched to the other side the subject is taken in hand and action upon it is prompt and straightforward. The Democratic Congress stalled for six years and then failed. The present Congress gets successful action in three weeks.

Good parading weather in Eastern States is about over. From now until the latter part of October the communities east of the Rocky Mountains will be exemplifying real kindness if they omit to stage long hikes by the doughboys along melting asphalt streets.

NOTES and COMMENT

Bills that would prohibit immigration for five years, and then maintain a rigid supervision of it, have been introduced. There is bound to be a popular sentiment in favor of some such laws. The country has a large heterogeneous mass in its maw, and should be given time to digest it.

Leave it to Maine. She has now officially declared Jamaica ginger to be an intoxicant, and made its sale or possession unlawful. It is evident that Maine is determined to keep at the head of the procession.

When we read about the too envious "breaking down under the strain"—of nervous and depressing manifestations in the form of rheumatism and toothache among the German delegates—we can't help thinking of the powers of endurance possessed by the Belgians. The German delegates have been at Versailles scarcely a month. The Belgians were devastated, robbed and murdered for four years. A few cases of toothache and rheumatism are no atonement for the miseries inflicted on the Belgians.

Governor Stephens is being, or is sure to be, urged by the women of California to call an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of ratifying the suffrage amendment. The legislature will not convene in regular session for a winter and a half, and that is a long time to wait in such a matter.

The iron has, indeed, entered the French soul when servants of the hotel in which the German peace delegates put up refuse tips from them. There couldn't be a mightier test.

The war department, in addition to immense surplus food stores, is to sell some five million yards of barbed wire. All this should be priced low, as the purchase of it was so largely responsible for sending them up.

Do you know what we think is the best story in the Bible? It may surprise you, but it's that one about Noah and the flood. We say this even in the face of educated folks who turn up their noses and declare the flood story a fake. You remember that Noah had to work a long time on the ark. It was uphill business, for at best, to go on sweating and toiling day after day under the hot sun, out on dry land, with the hammer and anvil club sat around spitting tobacco juice on his boards, whittling up his soft pine with old jack knives and telling him what a fool he was to expect a big rain in a country that was too dry to grow alfalfa. But he kept at it, finally the flood came and every mother's son of a croaker drowned. This is the only instance we know of either in sacred or profane history where the knacker got exactly what was coming to him—Pleasanton Times.

Brief farewell from the Red Bluff News: "If the Sacramento Bee had no better luck electing Johnson president than it has had fighting prohibition—good by it."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

They require permits in Los Angeles before a citizen is allowed to burn grass or weeds in town and the laws are prescribed for doing the same between 6 and 9 a. m. in down town and 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. in the residence district. The wonder is how town and 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. in the residence district. The wonder is how the women take a hand.—Stockton Record.

Governor Stephens has done well in making the new appointments of University regents, to apportion two of them to Southern California. Also, he has done well in the personal elections of Mrs. Margaret Sartori and George L. Cochran, as well as in that of Mortimer Fleischacker of San Francisco. All three will be valuable additions to the board.—Fresno Republican.

The Kennett boys that went on a strike for more money than the company was making ought to feel supremely happy. They shut up the smelters, depopulated the town, put city officials on no-pay basis, crippled the schools and the churches, and reduced the standard of living of every man in the town for support of his family.—Red Bluff News.

"Time-fins, blue fins" was the cry Sunday morning as the launch Leta D. entered the harbor at 10 o'clock flying the tuna flag. "They're out there!" shouted Captain Danielson. "We had six strikes and landed two fish without using a kite. Dr. Johnson landed them. The largest weighed 64 pounds. Later in the day Mrs. Wilson landed a fish that weighed 61 pounds, the first lady angler to bring a blue-fin tuna to sea this year. Seventeen fish were landed Sunday, the largest weighing 64 pounds and the smallest 3 1/2 lbs.—Catalina Islander.

LIBAU---Where Germans and Russ Clash

"Early in the war Libau paid the penalty for its advantageous location on the Baltic by being shelled and taken by the German warships, and now it is a fighting center of Letts, Germans and Bolsheviks, because of the immense hinterland served through its ice-free harbor," says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society, in connection with the recent fighting about the city.

"With a population comparable with that of such thriving American cities as San Diego, Cal., or Dallas, Texas, and flourishing factories of its own to swell the volume of its exports, garnered through its railway connections radiating to Kharkov, Orel and Moscow, Libau was a Baltic port of prime importance before the war."

"The city is situated on a low-lying, sandy peninsula which separates the nearly tideless Baltic from the Lake of Libau. It is in a high altitude, fewer than 250 miles south of that of Petrograd."

"A somewhat angular architecture betokened Libau's divergence from the prevailing type of Russian cities. Other evidence, ranging from its non-Slavic population, including many Jews, to its street signs in Russian, German and Lettish, gave testimony that it was Russian by adoption."

"At first only a fishing village Libau later became a possession of the Livonian Brothers of the Sword, whose members wore white mantles embroidered with red crosses. In a very literal sense the Germans who made up the order came 'not to bring

OLD WALLPAPER

The revived interest of American house decorators in the old-time wallpapers has fortunately resulted in the finding of some excellent specimens, put away a hundred years or more ago in some attic. Eighteen rolls of paper, for example, were recently discovered in an old New England house that tell the story of Pizarro's visit to Peru and illustrate also the habit of the old-time wallpaper-makers in going far and wide in history and geography for their subjects. These old wallpapers were often painted by hand, or made by the old art of hand-block printing although nowadays they are reproduced, literally or otherwise, by printing from wooden blocks. The Pizarro paper was an uncommonly valuable recovery, probably brought to America as long ago as 1735, at a period oddly like the present one in the expansion of commerce and the growth of acquaintance between distant parts of the planet. It was a time without photographic cameras, and the designs on the wallpaper seem often to have been intended to interest people as photographs of unfamiliar scenes and places do nowadays.—Christian Science Monitor.

HEALTH and HADDINESS

What Science Does to Help the Correct Growth of Bones

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

You can no more feel bones grow than you can walk on air. Nevertheless, almost nine persons in every ten are foolishly told about "growing pains" or "bone aches."

There are no such things as "growing pains." Pain is a call for help, a red flag, a warning that something is amiss.

You ought to attend to any pain in a child or yourself and not ignore it as "something non-existent." To dismiss a pain as due to "growing," "teething" or "rheumatism" is merely shifting the blame from Peter to Paul, without a discovery of the cause.

Extractions of the "ductless" glands, the thyroid, thymus, adrenals, pituitary, parathyroids and others are administered at times to improve the bones and other human structures.

Such glands are obtained from sheep, calves and pigs, and serve useful purposes, despite the "high-brow" names, such as "ductless," "endocrine" and "organotherapeutic."

A gland, such as the thyroid, lutein or pituitary is useful for fattening, mental sluggishness, flushings, dwarfism and infantilism. However, you cannot expect them to cure all infirmities and deformities. You must first be certain which patients will be benefited by gland treatment.

Outdoor life and hygiene are indispensable aids to gland treatment, and as there is usually more than one gland involved it is important to determine which ones. Tentative treatments and occasional failures are inevitable, but experience will gradually clear away the uncertainty. It is wise to begin with small doses of the particular gland needed.

Rickets in infants develops under the influence of defective feeding and digestive disturbance with superposed damage from infections. All of the organs may have suffered more or less in their development, and the upset may add to the clinical picture.

The main reliance is on diet, cod liver oil, phosphorus and fruit juices. Supplementary to general hygiene, a trip to the seashore or mountains, rest for body and mind, with ample regulated exercise, thyroid, pituitary and even suprarenal extract may have a decidedly favorable influence. In osteomalacia the most brilliant results have been realized with suprarenal treatment, sometimes associated with pituitary gland treatment.

When a child keeps small, backward in developing, infantile and there is reason to assume deficient thyroid action, thyroid treatment is absolutely needed. It should be with large doses, long kept up. It may sometimes be useful to add pituitary or suprarenal treatment in addition to the cod liver oil, iron or other measures that may be needed.

With giant growth there are usually several glands involved, and pituitary treatment is generally futile, as the trouble is irreparable. In the obese and with deformed bones, thyroid treatment is the chief indication at first, and later, pituitary. It is wise to weigh the victim frequently, and not to try to reduce the weight too fast.

In children who are thin and look as if they had consumption, with disturbances in bones and skin, suprarenal capsule, associated sometimes with pituitary and always with general hygiene, has given good results, undoubtedly because there is a certain degree of suprarenal insufficiency.

His Prayer.
An officer of the A. E. F. relates the following:
"We had a bunch of negro troops on board and on the screen in front of them was a terrible experience of them, as most of them had never been away from home before. They were very religious and used to pray all over the ship. One big buck held a prayer right outside my window thus: 'Oh, Lord, if Thou doesn't do another thing on this trip, call this ocean to attention.'—Everybody's Magazine."

BANDITS ROB 4, ESCAPE IN STOLEN TAXI

Search is being conducted today by the police for two bandits who dressed in army overcoats and carrying revolvers, staged four hold-ups, finally robbing a taxicab driver, seizing his car, and escaping in it yesterday. Full descriptions of the two are in the hands of the police.

The series of hold-ups culminated yesterday in the theft of the automobile. The footpads hailed George

Yerry, a taxi driver; had him drive toward the Foothill boulevard, then, holding a revolver to his head, released him of $15, dropped him on the road at Eighty-first avenue, and drove away in the car.

After traveling several miles, he was picked up by another machine.

Frank C. Finn, 1175 Twenty-eighth street, is another victim of the pair. He was accosted at the corner of Twentieth street and Saratoga boulevard, robbed of $100, and Pablo avenue by the footpads, who took his watch and chain and $20 in cash. After robbing him, he says, the footpads beat him over the head. He was treated at the emergency hospital.

C. C. Absher, living at the Rhine hotel, Fifteenth and Clay streets, was held up and robbed of $20 by the same bandits, according to the police theory, at Seventeenth street and San Pablo avenue.

In all cases, the police say, the victims agree on the form overcoats and say that the bandits carried nickel-plated revolvers.

Lem Dick, a laundryman, says that a single man, dressed in an army coat, robbed him of jewelry and $10 in cash early yesterday morning at

BRITISH BOARD ASKS U.S. TO BUY MORE SECURITIES

LONDON, June 8.—The United States must buy more foreign securities and goods if the prices at which American goods at the present rate of exchange are sold in the United States are to be competitive, the American Chamber of Commerce in London said today in its summary of industrial and commercial conditions in Great Britain during May. The shortage of tonnage to take American goods out of the British market.

The British board of trade, it is added, is studying the situation with regard to its failure to decide on a firm export and import restriction policy, and on the causes of the country's lack of the restoration of trade.

The government's spokesman, in reply, said he hoped to announce a definite policy when peace is exchanged. He added that the state of exchange rates would be a consideration.

FRUIT PRICES TO FALL SOON HERE

Apples, peaches and cherries are due for a sharp decline in price within the next few weeks, if warm weather continues, according to local wholesale commission merchants. Many fruits are becoming more plentiful and shippers say that with heavier receipts prices naturally will come down. There will be an abundance of fruit this season, and it is expected that when pickers get under full headway, both growers and commission merchants

Strawberries remain high, and at present there is no indication of a decline, according to commission merchants. Receipts are not so heavy as they were a few days ago. Immense quantities of strawberries are being handled at the canneries.

Lazanberries, raspberries and blackberries are beginning to reach the market in liberal quantities, but prices are unusually high for this season of the year. Blackberries are the latest arrival in the market. The first watermelons of the season have reached the market. They were grown in the Imperial valley. This is much earlier than Cantaloupes of fine quality are reaching the market each day. Standards sell for $1.75 a crate. The cantaloupe crop of California promises to be very large this season, dealers say. Prices have declined $1 a crate, and a further drop is expected.

POLICEMAN
ARE INJURED

Five persons are recovering from minor Sunday accident injuries today, following a series of mishaps about the bay. Four were injured in Oakland, among them a policeman.

Patrolman Thomas Jensen of the Northern division suffered bad bruises and contusions when he was run down while attempting to arrest when a motorcycle, 1222 Fairview avenue, who, he alleges, was driving a machine while intoxicated. The policeman was treated at the emergency hospital and later removed to his home.

Affred Bodilly, 5248 Shafter avenue, was injured when a truck in which he was riding with H. V. Wright collided with a Key Route train at Fifty-ninth and Adeline streets. Both men were thrown out and were sent to the emergency hospital. Carl Edinger, living at the Adams Hotel, sustained scalp wounds when a motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by C. J. McManus, at Fortieth street and Telegraph avenue. He was treated for cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Clara Teale, 45 Franklin street, was run down at Market and Mission streets, San Francisco, by a machine with an unidentified driver. The machine then crashed into a fruit stand owned by Angelo Kolotos and then sped away.

Apocryphal to the coming school bond campaign there is being shown at the American theater a highly entertaining motion picture visualizing Mayor John L. Davies' plans for the beautification of Lake Merritt.

The establishment of attractive bathing beaches, the construction, near the lake, of a stadium where the school children of Oakland can display their athletic prowess in contests of physical skill, strength and endurance, the building of an island in the center of the lake, upon which there will be erected a pavilion suitable for dancing and other amusements and the preparation of an aviation field, suitable as a landing place for all types of aircraft.

These pictures, now being shown at the American theater, were taken from George V. Grey's Canadiana Curtiss biplane on the occasion of a flight over this city last Saturday. At the request of the mayor, a representative of the Oakland TRIBUNE accompanied Grey on this important aerial journey and succeeded in securing some of the most wonderful motion pictures ever filmed of Oakland or any other city.

In addition to the scenes taken above Lakeside Park, pictures were taken of Oakland's business and residential districts, her shipyards, industrial plants, busy thoroughfares and many other interesting subjects.

These motion pictures—the first ever taken of Oakland—will be shown every afternoon and night this week at the American theater.

The Advertising Association of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will entertain Lieutenant Bert Hall, hero of the air, famous American ace, at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow at 12:15. Lieutenant Hall will entertain the assembly with tales of his exploits and with his views on aerial navigation.

Lieutenant Hall will have plenty to tell, because he fought in the Foreign Legion over all the famous battlefields of France, winning the Croix de Guerre with three palms, besides the Medal Militaire and decorations by the late Czar.

Colonel H. H. Arnold, in command of the United States air service for the Western Division and Major John Yost will also be present, as will Lieutenant William Thaw, commander of the famous Lafayette Escadrille. Leno, with Lieutenant Hall, are the only surviving members of that famous squadron.

HOTEL MEN OF
STATE ARRIVE
FOR SESSION

The eighth annual convention of the California Hotel Association will open its sessions at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow morning. The morning will be devoted to the registration of hotel men and visitors. There will be no meetings tomorrow, but there will be a banquet and a buffet supper at the Key Route Inn tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock.

Hotel men about the bay have been arranging an interesting program for the occasion and the visitors who attend are assured a good time. There will be representatives from all parts of California and from Oregon and Washington.

Thirty-two hotel men from Washington reached port this morning on the steamer President and will come to Oakland early tomorrow morning. The Northern Hotel Men's Association, through its officers, Henry Barker, president; W. C. Jurgens, chairman of the convention committee; and John F. Shek, secretary, have extended a cordial welcome to the visitors. It is expected that about 500 will be in attendance.

The program for Wednesday: 9:30 a. m.—Business meeting. President Obadiah Rich, of the California State Hotel Association, presiding; report of credentials committee; courtesy of floor to visiting hotel men. Welcome. Mayor John L. Davies, of Oakland; "Americanization," Fred Hunter, superintendent of schools, city of Oakland; "Tea and Coffee," George W. Caswell; "Cost of Operation," Dan Bass; "Kitchen Control," W. L. Crawford; "Credit Bureau," Albert L. Loeb, attorney, Northern California Hotel Association.

12:30 p. m.—Sectional luncheon of American Plan, European Plan and Seasonal Hotels; toast to "Oakland," Fred Reed.

PEACE TO END
ECONOMIC JAMS: HOOVER

PARIS, June 9 (By the Associated Press).—"This sort of economic delirium tremens will end with peace," said Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the inter-allied food commission, today in discussing the situation in Europe and the need of financing different nations. Asked for a statement as to the financial requirements of Europe from the United States during the next year, he said:

Any statement is premised upon peace and the return of Europe to work. I do not take it we will finance any more wars in Europe, directly or indirectly, nor that we will provide money to enable the people of Europe to live without work, the sort of problem we are at present. This sort of economic delirium tremens will end with peace.

The amount of credits from the United States to Europe during the year after peace revolves around the inability of the nations to pay for (a) raw material, machinery and tools, (b) food, (c) currency reorganization and (d) interest on money borrowed from our government.

SOME SELF-SUPPORTING.
The volume of financial assistance needed and the solution therefore, varies with the situation in each state. Neutral states are flourishing and need cause no concern. Rumania, Greater Serbia, Bulgaria, Arabia, Turkey, except Armenia, Portugal, Greece and Hungary will be virtually self-sufficient. In fact some of them should be able to export food and other commodities.

Poland and the Baltic states will produce food and raw materials, but will be short of fats. Czechoslovakia and Belgium have a larger import problem for they always require breadstuffs, meats and fats. They must have working capital to reorganize their currencies, provide raw material and meet the food problem for a while. The economic problems of most of these states are simple when compared to the larger European nations and the world will be associated with their recovery if they have peace.

HALF-BILLION NEEDED.
I feel that something like half a billion dollars assistance from the American government may be needed to join with the other allies in the reorganization of the currencies of the new states and to take care of some particularly acute and otherwise unsolvable situations.

On the other hand much larger sums will be required from private credit for raw material and food, and in order to secure that the private credits to governments and especially to individuals should be established.

We may have some further political revolutions in Europe before the social pendulum has reached the point of stability in some spots, but in my view the greater danger of the red terror and destruction by Bolshevism has been greatly mitigated and will have actually passed in some countries on the signing of peace.

Alameda Is Ready for Fighters
Welcome Plans Are Completed

ALAMEDA, June 9.—The plans for the home-coming reception which the City of Alameda will extend to its fighting men on Flag Day, June 14, are progressing steadily, and it is confidently believed that the reception will be the largest affair of its kind in the history of the city. In order to leave much of the day free for the fighting men and town people to carry out their own private plans, the reception activities will be limited to the afternoon.

The parade will start at Walnut and Central avenue at 2:30 o'clock. It will probably take an hour for the parade to complete the line of march to Lincoln Park and to assemble the crowd for the exercises. The exercises and the presentation of medals to the fighting men will take perhaps an hour and a half and the ceremonial features of the celebration will be completed by 5 o'clock or shortly thereafter. This leaves the evening free for private plans and pleasures. Many of the fighting men, however, are soldiers, sailors and marines, as well as thousands of the general crowd of attendance, will spend the evening at the Alameda beaches. All men in uniform will be admitted free to the beaches and will be given other special privileges, including free admission to the dance pavilion. The parade will be made up of returned fighting men, 4000 school children, carrying flags; a detail of marines from Mare Island, a detail of sailors from the Goat Island training station, a detail of soldiers from the Presidio in San Francisco, Spanish War Veterans, Grand Army Veterans, a police detail, the members of Alameda Elks' Lodge and the special guests, speakers, etc., who have been asked to participate.

ELKS TO PARTICIPATE
Additional interest is lent to the reception through the official participation of Alameda Lodge of Elks, which will hold its Flag Day observance as a part of the reception ceremony. The reception music will be furnished by the Elks' band, numbers J. R. Knowland, the orator of the day, will speak for both the reception and the Elks, and the balance of the Elks' day observance, consisting of the Elks' school children, carrying flags, will be carried out by Fred Carson and Dr. J. K. Hamilton, both members of the Alameda lodge.

Mayor Frank Otis will be master of ceremonies and will be introduced by Chairman C. R. Smith of the executive committee of the home-coming reception. Governor William D. Stephens has been invited to speak, and the committee is now awaiting to hear definitely from him. If the governor is not able to be present, Lieutenant-Governor Young of Berkeley will be asked to officiate in the governor's stead. Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, who was to have been one of the speakers, has been called East and will not be on the coast. Invitations have been extended to the members of the California Legislature, to many other State officials, to the mayors and council members about the bay and others.

LEON ADER TO SPEAK
Leon Aders, deputy city treasurer, who returned this week from overseas service, has been selected to respond in behalf of the fighting men to the welcome home address. There will be no dearth of music. The Marine band from Mare Island, a naval band from the Goat Island training station, the 44th Infantry band from the Presidio, San Francisco, and the Alameda Bethlehem shipyard band will be in line. Plans to use the Shriner band of Oakland and San Francisco were changed, as many of the musicians will not be available on that day. In addition to the music of hands, there will be the munity singing at Lincoln Park, led by Charles W. Hawley, and special solos by Arthur H. Leydecker, recently returned from overseas, where he was in charge of camp and hospital singing with the American forces. The girls' glee club of the Alameda high school will assist Hawley and Leydecker.

Following the program of exercises will come the presentation of medals for every man and woman from Alameda, who were or are at present in active war service.

1500 ALAMEDA FIGHTERS
Included in the men entitled to medal awards are the 110 men who were under entrainment orders to go to Texas and to Camp Lewis the day following the signing of the armistice. The list compiled by the executive committee shows that Alameda furnished about 1500 fighting men and a half-hundred women war workers. Thirty Alameda men and women gave their lives. Medals bearing 5000 stars will be presented to the relatives of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The medals to be presented are handsome bronze affairs, hung with red, white and blue ribbons and bearing the seal of the City of Alameda, with the words "Honored Son" engraved on the medal bar. On the reverse side of the medal will be engraved the name of the recipient and his military rank and unit.

In addition to the parading of 4000 school children bearing flags, the Alameda School Department will offer a number of special parade features, the details of which will not be announced in advance. It is expected that several hundred Elks will be in line. Each division of the parade will be headed by a band. Grand Marshal A. P. Smiley is now arranging parade details and assigning positions to different units. The parade will start at 2:30 sharp.

The city of Alameda is co-operating with the citizens at large in the reception. The city has purchased the 4000 flags to be carried in the parade by the school children, and the flags will be probably permanent property of the city, and thus available for future use. Each parading Elk will also carry a flag.

GERMANS GET BACON.
COBLENZ, June 9.—On the first day American bacon was on sale in Coblenz butcher shops, a crowd of more than two hundred Germans formed in line awaiting their turn at the counter. The bacon is sold by the German food rationing system, which has been in use since the food shortage became imminent throughout the country.

SWEDISH BARITONE TO GIVE PROGRAM

JOEL MOSSBERG, the celebrated Swedish-American baritone, will appear in concert at the Auditorium opera house tomorrow evening under the auspices of the choir of St. Paul's Swedish Lutheran church.

He will be assisted by Esther Hjelte, pianist, and Alice Davies Enbrius, violinist, and the Svva Male Chorus will sing several selections. Joel Mossberg's program will consist of French, English and Italian opera numbers and Swedish folk songs, featuring particularly selections from "The Barber of Seville."

The concert is being given for the benefit of St. Paul's organ fund.

Last of 32 Saloons Burned at Keswick

REDDING, June 9.—In Keswick yesterday a defective flue caused a fire that wiped out what was left of the business part of the old smelter town and entailed a loss of $10,000. E. Clippabana lost his hotel, two lodging houses near by and his saloon. O. C. Goodlet's store and dwelling burned at a loss of $1000. Joseph C. Gagnon lost a dwelling. There is now not a saloon left in Keswick, and it once boasted thirty-two.

Never Failed to Write Home Weekly

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 9.—Lake Bower, a Des Moines automobile salesman, heads the honor roll for Mothers' Day not only of Des Moines and Iowa, but the nation, it is believed here.

Like, as he is known, has been away from home for thirty years. In all that time he has never missed a Sunday in writing to his mother or the folks at home.

Warn "Meanest" Thief to Leave Town

SANTA BARBARA, June 9.—On the ground that "a man who steal his pal's wooden leg is too mean to put in with other prisoners," the chief of police here "flouted" John F. Neelan on south. He indignantly laid out a police record, but the fingerprint expert got Neelan's number and found the wooden leg theft charged him with, at a place where he served a sentence for the theft.
